CUBA-BASED MIG'S FIRE ON U.S. BOAT

UNCURLED AFTER 22 YEARS — Jerome Meyer, 37, who for 22 years lay curled up in a fetal position, gets rehabilitation treatment at the Sister Kenney Institute in Minneapolis, Minn. At the age of 15 the Rice Lake, Wis., man was moved to his uncle's home by his mother, and a traumatic affect developed. Gradually he curled up like an unborn baby, was helpless for the ensuing years. Treatment began last November. Doctors say an operation will be necessary on his fibrosis-frozen knees for complete mobility.

1939 Sculpture Poses JFK As Watchful Altar Angel

DETROIT (AP)—An altar sculpture depicting John F. Kennedy as a watchful angel hovering over St. Therese has been found in the basement of a Roman Catholic seminary in Memphis, Mich.

The discovery was announced Wednesday by the Rev. Nicholas M. Strini, president of Maryglade College, and Benjamin Levinson, member of the board of trustees.

It had been lying for three years safely packed away in the basement of the seminary.

The sculpture—for which President Kennedy posed when he was a Harvard student—will be used on the main altar of the seminary.

The Kennedy panel was found after one of the Maryglade missionaries, Brother Ronald Doneda, last month saw pictures and a story about the Kennedy connection in an Italian magazine. He recalled the 12 crates in the basement that had been shipped from Rome. He unpacked them, studied them carefully and found the Kennedy sculpture.

2 Ohio Schools To Aid in Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Education has awarded contracts for studies involving high school courses in English and science to the University of Illinois and Western Michigan University.

The $45,000 contract to Western Michigan is in the field of science and will involve study of about 1,000 public school students from four states, including those in Archbold and Bryan, Ohio.

An education spokesman said object of the studies is to identify what characteristics of high school English and science courses serve to improve the performance of students when they get to college.

Sunday Sales List Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee is nearing the end of its task of drafting a bill to ban Sunday sales in Ohio, and has given tentative approval of 15 cases of exemptions.

The nine-member group expected to complete the job later today at a meeting "to tie together loose ends" and decide on four classifications of items deferred for further study.

Chairman Edmund James, R-Noble, said decisions on these classes will permit final drafting of the measure to revise Ohio's present Sunday closing law for presentation to the 23-member judiciary committee next week.

The exemptions to a ban against sale of real and personal property on Sunday would be classed as necessary to the health, safety and welfare of the buyers.

Those tentatively agreed to by the subcommittee were:

Drugs, medicines, medical and surgical supplies and appliances and objects purchased upon prescriptions; infant supplies and equipment; sickroom supplies and sanitary goods, ice, ice cream and ices, candies and beverages.

Prepared food for consumption on premises where sold (still to be decided is whether to include such foods for consumption off the premises) newspapers, magazines, periodicals and books, tobacco and tobacco products, perishable fruits and vegetables, bakery products, milk and dairy products, eggs.

Illness Toll Still Climbing In City Schools

Circleville schools continued to operate today in spite of an increasing list of absentees due to illness.

A total of 579 students, about 19 per cent of a 3,077 enrollment, was absent from classes today — up 173 from yesterday's 406 count.

Schools in the county area again reported absentees were above normal.

However, George McDowell, county superintendent, said "there is not enough sickness in the schools (county) to be alarming." He added that the percentage has stayed about the same — varying with individual schools — all week.

THIRTEEN Circleville teachers were still absent from their classrooms today. Twenty were downed by the flu on Tuesday.

There was no indication today that schools in this area will be closed. However, Fritz Jacobs, city superintendent, was expected to return this afternoon. He has been in Atlantic City, N. Y., attending a school administrators convention.

Titan 2 Blows Up

VANDERBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force says a Titan 2 missile blew up shortly after launch Saturday because power lines between it and the ground failed to separate properly after launch from an underground silo.

As he strolled near the police station Wednesday, a car pulled up. A tall, blond youth got out with a large white dog. The man asked him for a match. When Underwood produced it, the stranger ordered his dog to "watch him."

While the dog reared back and bared his fangs, his master calmly unburdened Underwood of his wallet, which contained $89.

Hardening of Arteries Said 'Epidemic' Now

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, famous heart specialist, said Wednesday America is suffering "one of the most serious epidemics of all time"—hardening of the inner lining of the arteries.

He told the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly that "we have replaced epidemics of infectious diseases with this terrific epidemic of atherosclerosis. It is booming wherever there is prosperity."

About 8,000 Soviet Troops Expected To Ship Out of Cuba in Few Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. sources report some Soviet troops—perhaps as many as 8,000—may ship out of Cuba within days. And American officials hope some of the Soviet weapons will be leaving too.

The forecast of the early departure is partly based on the arrival in Cuban waters of four empty or lightly loaded Soviet ships. One already has docked, sources said Wednesday night, and the three others are approaching the island.

The ship movements were disclosed barely a day after word circulated from congressional and diplomatic sources that the Soviet government had promised Monday to withdraw several thousand of its troops from Cuba by March 15.

Rhodes Liquor Setup Altered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate Liquor Committee has junked most of the controversial provisions of a bill to create a three-member liquor control commission to replace a four-member board.

The committee sent to the Senate floor a substitute bill which contains only the bare bones of the original proposal sponsored by the Republican Rhodes administration.

After the committee finished chopping, pruning and restoring the legal language of the present law, only these two major new features remained:

—A three-member commission instead of a four-member board.

Authority for appeals from commission decisions to the 10th District Court of Appeals (Franklin County) instead of Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

Stripped away are such controversial provisions as:

—Sole authority in the commission chairman to set penalty for violators of liquor laws and regulations.

—Authority to modify penalties at any time after assessment of a penalty.

—A provision that all commission members be attorneys. (The new bill sticks with the present provision that only the chairman must be a lawyer.)

—Authority for one member of the board to sit as a hearing examiner in any case involving a violation by a liquor permit holder.

The two houses received another 33 bills Wednesday. One of the prime ones was a House bill to legalize concession games at fairs. They were outlawed a couple of years ago as gambling by former Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

The measure would take such games out of the gambling category if there is an element of skill required to win a prize. The games are the financial backbone of some fairs.

Sponsors are Reps. Walter L. White, R-Allen; Chalmers Wylie, R-Franklin; Virtus Kruse, D-Fayette, and J. L. Frost, R-Brown.

Man-Dog Holdup Team Robs Victim of $89

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—James E. Underwood says he was a victim of a man-dog holdup team.

Underwood, 47, a laborer, told police:

As he strolled near the police station Wednesday, a car pulled up. A tall, blond youth got out with a large white dog. The man asked him for a match. When Underwood produced it, the stranger ordered his dog to "watch him."

While the dog reared back and bared his fangs, his master calmly unburdened Underwood of his wallet, which contained $89.

The soldiers arrived there last fall with the offensive missiles and bombers which set off the Cuban crisis.

Experts estimated the four vessels were of a size that could handle as many as 8,000 men—almost half the 17,000 Soviet military personnel President Kennedy said he believed were still on the island.

But the potential removal of some of the troops could raise a new problem—that of the Soviet weapons on Fidel Castro's island bastion.

Administration officials do not regard the weapons as an offensive threat to the United States. If put in Cuban hands, however, they would give Castro a new capacity to provoke the United States and stir up more troubles.

Negro Solon Claims Senator Uses Hitler-like Race Bias

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell has accused Sen. John J. Williams of racial bias. But Williams says how government money is spent—not race—is the issue in his attack on the Negro congressman.

Powell accused Williams, R-Del., at a news conference Wednesday of following "the Hitler concept" in purchasing property that the New York Democrat said is under a restriction limiting resale to "Aryans." Asked if he felt there was a racial motive to Williams' criticism, Powell declared emphatically, "yes."

The senator swung back at Powell Wednesday night. "I never have and never will refer to any man's race, religion or nationality in discussing a case on the Senate floor or off it," Williams told a newsman.

"I do intend to see that anyone, whether a member of Congress or not, gives a proper accounting of how government money is spent," he said. "We're going to keep right on the issue and will not be diverted."

In his session with newsmen, Powell said Williams has voted consistently against civil rights. He also distributed an excerpt from a property deed to a house Powell said Williams bought in 1952 in Rehoboth Beach, Del.

According to the excerpt, the deed contained a restriction against the sale or leasing of the property "to any person not of the Aryan (Nordic) race."

Reached Wednesday night at his home, Williams said he bought the property in 1952, still lives there and has no intention of leaving. He said he has never examined the deed and has no idea if it contains a restriction.

But even if it does, Williams said it would have no effect because the supreme Court has outlawed such provisions.

The battle began Feb. 5 when Williams charged in a Senate speech that the government was "shoveling out" money for activities sponsored or promoted by Powell. He also accused Powell of income tax delinquency and criticized him for using State Department funds for a European trip last summer with two women staff members.

Powell, who was in Puerto Rico when Williams leveled his blast, fired back Wednesday before a battery of newsmen. He said a Williams charge that the Housing and Home Finance Administration had lent Powell or groups associated with him $10.8 million for three housing projects was incorrect.

The HHFA deals in mortgage insurance, not in loans, Powell said, and the transactions Williams referred to were handled by a foundation he started in honor of his father. He said he got out of the foundation a year ago.

"I have always paid my taxes promptly," said Powell. The years in question, he said, are the subject of pending court action and it cannot be determined what, if anything, he owes until the court decides.

As for last summer's trip—according to Williams a "European vacation" for Mr. Powell and two lady friends where he attended all the night spots of the European capitals"—Powell said the women with him were staff members of his House Education Committee.

Powell said he used State Department counterpart funds as do other members of Congress.

Subzero Blast Expected Here

The weatherman has promised another cold blast for tonight, similar to ones that brought sub-zero temperatures to this area several times last month.

A low of zero to ten below is expected by early morning, according to the noon forecast. Windy and much colder tonight with occasional snow flurries was included in the grim outlook.

Tomorrow's high is to be 18-20 with fair skies.

The mercury took a sudden plunge yesterday after an afternoon high was recorded at 52. The low this morning was four degrees above. Snow measured nearly 1½ inches.

Winter is still here. However, this is Feb. 21 and many will be consoled to know that a month from today is the first day of spring.

Causing the most concern are 24 anti-aircraft missile bases capable of shooting down U.S. reconnaissance planes and relatively short-range antiship missiles.

These weapons are understood to be still completely within Soviet control.

Administration officials have reported that among the Soviet military personnel on the island are four heavily armed combat battalions of 5,000 men.

If and when the combat units go the expectation is that they will take many, perhaps all, of their arms with them. But no one here rules out the possibility that much of this armament may be added to the arms already supplied to Castro's forces.

In the Senate the Armed Services Committee will ask defense officials for a detailed report on the Cuban situation.

Dr. Manuel de Varona, president of the Cuban Senate from 1950 to 1952 told a House Inter-American Affairs subcommittee Wednesday that there are definitely more than 17,000 Soviet troops in Cuba, perhaps up to 30,000.

Calling for a U.S. invasion "to restore peace to the hemisphere," Dr. de Varona said "well informed sources in Vienna" report the Soviets have established secret military bases in the jungles of northwest Brazil and in the mountains of Paraguay.

A spokesman for the Brazilian foreign office said in Rio de Janeiro that Dr. de Varona's report was absolutely ridiculous.

Arms Spending Peak Sighted

U.S. Budget Aides Growing Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The peak in defense spending appears in sight.

But there are unknowns and uncertainties that could prevent any substantial downturn or even a leveling off in the years ahead.

Several key administration officials, including Budget Director Kermit Gordon, have been speaking optimistically of late. Pentagon authorities agree there is a basis for such optimism.

President Kennedy's proposed budget for the coming bookkeeping year contemplates record peacetime military spending of about $51 billion—more than half the total federal budget.

This is about $8 billion higher than the last military spending proposals submitted to Congress by President Dwight D. Eisenhower before he left the White House two years ago.

Much of the heavy increase grew from the Kennedy administration's urgent push to (1) build up the country's conventional land, sea and air forces and (2) speed construction of Polaris missile firing submarines and emplacement of quick-firing Minuteman intercontinental missiles in protected bases underground.

A good bit of this already has been done. And the new budget contains money to pay for the balance of such expensive programs as a 41-boat Polaris fleet and a force of new jet tanker planes to give B52 bombers greater range and endurance.

The number of U.S. fighting men has been boosted by nearly 200,000 above the Eisenhower strength, to nearly 2.7 million.

The Pentagon has taken long strides toward re-equipping the forces with the latest and most potent in artillery, tanks, battle-field missiles jet fighter planes, helicopters and armored troop carriers.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has embarked on a cost-saving drive, which he predicts will yield economies of $3 billion a year. Among other things he is trying to get defense contractors to cut down on the "gold plating"—the excessive refinements that go to boost the price but add little to the utility.

Kennedy Orders Prevention of Second Incident

Shrimp Fishermen Off Key West Not Hit by Red Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy ordered the armed forces today "to take all necessary action" to prevent a recurrence of Wednesday's rocket attack by Cuba-based MIG planes on an American shrimp boat.

Kennedy's action was announced by the White House, which attributed the attack in the Florida Straits to "Cuban aircraft."

In a second announcement, the White House said the Soviet Union has told this government that several thousand Soviet military personnel will be withdrawn from Cuba by the middle of March.

It said the Soviet personnel being withdrawn had to do with guarding the kinds of weapons which already have been removed from Cuba, as well as some military specialists who have been training Cuban military cadres.

"The United States government considers this action by the Soviet government a useful step in reduction of international tensions," the White House statement said.

As for the shrimp boat incident, press secretary Pierre Salinger read newsmen a statement reporting that "a strong protest" against the firing of MIG rockets at the shrimp boat Ala has been sent to Havana via the Swiss government.

"The United States government will expect a full explanation from Cuba," the statement said.

Swiss channels were used to forward the note because the United States does not maintain diplomatic relations with Cuba.

The key sentence in the White House statement read: "Orders have been given to the armed forces to take all necessary action against any repetition of such an attack."

The shrimp boat was not hit by the rockets.

Educators Debate Paddlings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Should junior be paddled when he becomes unruly at school?

Educators over the nation have varying opinions, but generally they don't consider it as vital an issue as the superintendent of schools in Washington does.

Supt. Carl F. Hanson has asked permission of the District of Columbia Board of education to spank young troublemakers. Hanson said immunity from paddling encourages insolence on the part of some children.

William C. Hinkley, superintendent of Aurora, Colo. schools said that while there is no state law restricting corporal punishment, "We certainly do not recommend this (corporal punishment) as a means of discipline—certainly not in many cases."

The New York State education commissioner, Dr. James E. Allen Jr., said, "The exercise of corporal punishment is authorized in New York state. Local school boards have the power to prohibit it in their districts, however it boils down to a question of what is reasonable."

In New York City, the spanking of pupils by teachers is not permitted.

Irving Breyer, attorney for the San Francisco Board of Education, said California law permits corporal punishment, administered only by a principal or his assistant. Use of the practice is left to the discretion of each school board.

A Montana statute says teachers may administer corporal punishment if it is witnessed by another teacher or principal, but not with undue anger or without notifying the parents.

John W. Letson, Atlanta, Ga., school superintendent, said:

"We do not officially have authority for corporal punishment. We have what I consider complete leeway to maintain order. Certainly we don't feel we have any serious problem."

"Corporal punishment can be justified only as a last resort, Dr. Owen B. Kernan Massachusetts commissioner of education said. "The teacher oftentimes must act in place of the parents. The test of corporal punishment is whether it is reasonable and moderate."

1939 Sculpture Poses JFK As Watchful Altar Angel

DETROIT (AP)—An altar sculpture depicting John F. Kennedy as a watchful angel hovering over St. Therese has been found in the basement of a Roman Catholic seminary in Memphis, Mich.

The discovery was announced Wednesday by the Rev. Nicholas M. Strini, president of Marygrove College, and Benjamin Levinson member of the board of trustees. It had been lying for three years safely packed away in the basement of the seminary.

The sculpture—for which President Kennedy posed when he was a Harvard student—will be used on the main altar of the seminary.

The Kennedy panel was found after one of the Marygrove missionaries, Brother Ronald Doneda, last month saw pictures and a story about the Kennedy connection in an Italian magazine. He recalled the 12 crates in the basement that had been shipped from Rome. He unpacked them, studied them carefully and found the Kennedy sculpture.

Author-sculptor Mrs. John C. Wiley, wife of an American diplomat, and church officials confirmed the authenticity.

The origin was in Riga, Latvia, where the Wileys were stationed in 1939. Young Kennedy, on a vacation, was visiting the Wileys.

"I needed a model for the angel in one of the panels," Mrs. Wiley recalled. "Jack, with his curly hair and youthful serenity of expression, was literally God-sent."

The sculpture was intended for a new church in Antwerp, Belgium. But by the time it was completed the Nazis had overrun Belgium. It was shipped to Rome where it was assigned to a new church being built in a suburb.

When the new church was completed, the architect said it did not fit in with the building's design. Later it was donated for a religious exhibit in 1959.

There the Rev. Felix Cazzaniga picked it up for the Pontifical Institute for Foreign Missions Order. Father Maestri, in Rome to discuss plans for construction of Marygrove, saw a panel from the dismantled altarpiece. He requested the entire sculpture for his new seminary.

So it was shipped to Michigan without any of the churchmen knowing that a young man who was to become president of the United States had posed for one of the panels.

Sunday Sales List Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A House judiciary subcommittee is nearing the end of its task of drafting a bill to ban Sunday sales in Ohio, and has given tentative approval of 15 cases of exemptions.

The nine-member group expected to complete the job later today at a meeting "to tie together loose ends" and decide on four classifications of items deferred for further study.

Chairman Edmund James, R-Noble, said decisions on these classes will permit final drafting of the measure to revise Ohio's present Sunday closing law for presentation to the 23-member judiciary committee next week.

The exemptions to a ban against sale of real and personal property

on Sunday would be classed as necessary to the health, safety and welfare of the buyers.

Those tentatively agreed to by the subcommittee were:

Drugs, medicines, medical and surgical supplies and appliances and objects purchased upon prescriptions; infant supplies and equipment; sickroom supplies and sanitary goods, ice, ice cream and ices, candies and beverages.

Prepared food for consumption on premises where sold (still to be decided is whether to include such foods for consumption off the premises) newspapers, magazines, periodicals and books, tobacco and tobacco products, perishable fruits and vegetables, bakery products, milk and dairy products, eggs.

Gasoline and motor fuels, fuel additives, lubricants and antifreeze, emergency repair or replacement parts necessary to and safety devices for safe operation of land vehicles (autos), boats and aircraft; emergency plumbing, heating, cooling and electrical repair and replacement parts and equipment when installed by persons regularly engaged in that trade or business, cooking, heating and lighting fuel, electricity supplies, flowers, garden arrangements, plants, seeds and shrubs.

Funeral and burial supplies, maps and picture postcards.

Still to be decided also are suggested exemptions for athletic, sporting and recreational equipment; antiques, souvenirs, novelties, statuary and handicraft and sales at state, county and independent fairs.

Rhodes Liquor Setup Altered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate Liquor Committee has junked most of the controversial provisions of a bill to create a three-member liquor control commission to replace a four-member board.

The committee sent to the Senate floor a substitute bill which contains only the bare bones of the original proposal sponsored by the Republican Rhodes administration.

After the committee finished chopping, pruning and restoring the legal language of the present law, only these two major new features remained:

— A three-member commission instead of a four-member board. Authority for appeals from commission decisions to the 10th District Court of Appeals (Franklin County) instead of Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

Stripped away are such controversial provisions as:

— Sole authority in the commission chairman to set penalty for violators of liquor laws and regulations.

— Authority to modify penalties at any time after assessment of a penalty.

— A provision that all commission members be attorneys. The new bill sticks with the present provision that only the chairman must be a lawyer.

— Authority for one member of the board to sit as a hearing examiner in any case involving a violation by a liquor permit holder.

The two houses received another 33 bills Wednesday. One of the prime ones was a House bill to legalize concession games at fairs.

They were outlawed a couple of years ago as gambling by former Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

The measure would take such games out of the gambling category if there is an element of skill required to win a prize. The games are the financial backbone of some fairs.

Sponsors are Reps. Walter L. White, R-Allen; Chalmers Wylie, R-Franklin; Virtus Kruse, D-Fayette, and J. L. Frost, R-Brown.

Man-Dog Holdup Team Robs Victim of $89

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—James E. Underwood says he was a victim of a man-dog holdup team.

Underwood, 47, a laborer, told police:

As he strolled near the police station Wednesday, a car pulled up. A tall, blond youth got out with a large white dog. The man asked him for a match. When Underwood produced it, the stranger ordered his dog to "watch him."

While the dog reared back and bared his fangs, his master calmly unbuckled Underwood of his wallet, which contained $89.

Hardening of Arteries Said 'Epidemic' Now

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, famous heart specialist, said Wednesday America is suffering "one of the most serious epidemics of all time"—hardening of the inner lining of the arteries.

He told the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly that "we have replaced epidemics of infectious diseases with this terrific epidemic of atherosclerosis. It is booming wherever there is prosperity."

Negro Solon Claims Senator Uses Hitler-like Race Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell has accused Sen. John J. Williams of racial bias. But Williams says how government money is spent—not race—is the issue in his attack on the Negro congressman.

Powell accused Williams, R-Del., at a news conference Wednesday following "the Hitler concept" in purchasing property that the New York Democrat said is under a restriction limiting resale to "Aryans." Asked if he felt there was a racial motive to Williams' criticism, Powell declared emphatically, "yes."

The senator swung back at Powell Wednesday night. "I never have and never will refer to any man's race, religion or nationality in discussing a case on the Senate floor or off it," Williams told a newsman.

"I do intend to see that anyone, whether a member of Congress or not, gives a proper accounting of how government money is spent," he said. "We're going to keep right on the issue and will not be diverted."

In his session with newsmen, Powell said Williams has voted consistently against civil rights. He also distributed an excerpt from a property deed to a house Powell said Williams bought in 1952 in Rehoboth Beach, Del.

According to the excerpt, the deed contained a restriction against the sale or leasing of the property "to any person not of the Aryan (Nordic) race."

Reached Wednesday night at his home, Williams said he bought the property in 1952, still lives there and has no intention of leaving. He said he has never examined the deed and has no idea if it contains a restriction.

But even if it does, Williams said it would have no effect because the supreme Court has outlawed such provisions.

The battle began Feb. 5 when Williams charged in a Senate speech that the government was "shoveling out" money for activities sponsored or promoted by Powell. He also accused Powell of income tax delinquency and criticized him for using State Department funds for a European trip last summer with two women staff members.

Powell, who was in Puerto Rico when Williams leveled his blast, fired back Wednesday before a battery of newsmen. He said a Williams charge that the Housing and Home Finance Administration had lent Powell or groups associated with him $10.8 million for three housing projects was incorrect.

The HHFA deals in mortgage insurance, not in loans, Powell said, and the transactions Williams referred to were handled by a foundation he started in honor of his father. He said he got out of the foundation a year ago.

"I have always paid my taxes promptly," said Powell. The years in question, he said, are the subject of pending court action and it cannot be determined what, if anything, he owes until the court decides.

As for last summer's trip—according to Williams a "European vacation for Mr. Powell and two lady friends where he attended all the night spots of the European capitals"—Powell said the women with him were staff members of his House Education Committee.

Powell said he used State Department counterpart funds as do other members of Congress.

Subzero Blast Expected Here

The weatherman has promised another cold blast for tonight, similar to ones that brought sub-zero temperatures to this area several times last month.

A low of zero to ten below is expected by early morning, according to the noon forecast. Windy and much colder tonight with occasional snow flurries was included in the grim outlook.

Tomorrow's high is to be 18-20 with fair skies.

The mercury took a sudden plunge yesterday after an afternoon high was recorded at 52. The low this morning was four degrees above. Snow measured nearly 1½ inches.

Winter is still here. However, this is Feb. 21 and many will be consoled to know that a month from today is the first day of spring.

Many Bargains Are Scheduled Here on Friday

Special observance of George Washington's birthday is the order of the day Friday for Circleville merchants.

Plenty of bargains are in store for city and county shoppers as part of the annual "George Washington Birthday Sale." Local retailers will maintain regular Friday hours.

Sponsoring the special sales event is the Retail Merchants Division of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the retail group will offer maximum bargains and values in cooperation with the promotion. Many of them will be found on the advertising pages of today's Herald.

The sales observance is scheduled to go on regardless of any snow or cold forecasts the weatherman may come up with. Most city, county and state offices will close for the day—meaning many employees will have ample opportunity to catch up on their shopping.

Arms Spending Peak Sighted

U.S. Budget Aides Growing Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The peak in defense spending appears in sight.

But there are unknowns and uncertainties that could prevent any substantial downturn or even a leveling off in the years ahead.

Several key administration officials, including Budget Director Kermit Gordon, have been speaking optimistically of late. Pentagon authorities agree there is a basis for such optimism.

President Kennedy's proposed budget for the coming bookkeeping year contemplates record peacetime military spending of about $51 billion—more than half the total federal budget.

This is about $8 billion higher than the last military spending proposals submitted to Congress by President Dwight D. Eisenhower before he left the White House two years ago.

Much of the heavy increase grew from the Kennedy administration's urgent push to (1) build up the country's conventional land, sea and air forces and (2) speed construction of Polaris missile firing submarines and emplacement of quick-firing Minuteman intercontinental missiles in protected bases underground.

A good bit of this already has been done. And the new budget contains money to pay for the balance of such expensive programs as a 41-boat Polaris fleet and a force of new jet tanker planes to give B52 bombers greater range and endurance.

The number of U.S. fighting men has been boosted by nearly 200,000 above the Eisenhower strength, to nearly 2.7 million.

The Pentagon has taken long strides toward re-equipping the forces with the latest and most potent in artillery, tanks, battle-field missiles jet fighter planes, helicopters and armored troop carriers.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has embarked on a cost-saving drive, which he predicts will yield economies of $3 billion a year. Among other things he is trying to get defense contractors to cut down on the "gold plating"—the excessive refinements that go to boost the price but add little to the utility.

means of discipline—certainly not in many cases."

The New York State education commissioner, Dr. James E. Allen Jr., said, "The exercise of corporal punishment is authorized in New York state. Local school boards have the power to prohibit it in their districts, however. It boils down to a question of what is reasonable."

In New York City, the spanking of pupils by teachers is not permitted.

Irving Breyer, attorney for the San Francisco Board of Education, said California law permits corporal punishment, administered only by a principal or his assistant. Use of the practice is left to the discretion of each school board.

A Montana statute says teachers may administer corporal punishment if it is witnessed by another teacher or principal, but not by undue anger or without notifying the parents.

John W. Letson, Atlanta, Ga., school superintendent, said: "We do not officially have authority for corporal punishment. We have what I consider complete leeway to maintain order. Certainly we don't feel we have any serious problem."

"Corporal punishment can be justified only as a last resort, Dr. Owen B. Kernan Massachusetts commissioner of education said. "The teacher oftentimes must act in place of the parents. The test of corporal punishment is whether it is reasonable and moderate."

Morse Raps Sen. Lausche's 'Ignorance'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., unhappy over remarks made by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says the Ohio senator has shown "gross ignorance of the whole mediation process."

Morse, in a Senate speech Wednesday, charged Lausche with making an insulting speech implying that Morse was a biased mediator in the settlement of the docks strike.

Lausche quickly replied that he had meant no aspersion on the Oregon senator's integrity but only contended that "we are all burdened with our predispositions."

Morse was chairman of a mediation group appointed by President Kennedy which arranged the settlement of the recent docks strike.

Lausche had told the Senate Tuesday that Morse had ideologies and predispositions which "made it impossible for him to be what one might call an impartial arbitrator."

Lausche also contended that nothing was done about the issue of featherbedding by the striking dockworkers.

Morse told the Senate: "I challenge him to go to the litigants (the dockworkers and shipowners) and find out if they feel they had fair treatment."

Kennedy Orders

occurred Wednesday but was only disclosed by the Pentagon this morning. The Defense Department said two MIGs flew by the shrimp boat, Ala, and fired rockets but did not hit it.

The presence of the MIGs had been detected earlier by radar and U.S. planes from Florida, dispatched to the area, saw the firing.

A Pentagon spokesman said the Ala was in international waters, 60 miles north of the Cuban mainland.

The sudden MIG assault inevitably raised the question in speculation here as to whether the shrimp boat might afford some clue to the mysterious fate of the tanker Marine Sulphur Queen, which vanished Feb. 2 on a voyage between Beaumont, Tex., and Norfolk, Va. The tanker was carrying 15,000 tons of molten sulphur. Wednesday ships searching for the vessel found flotsam littered Sulphur Queen.

However, a Defense Department spokesman said he was not aware of any evidence that the Sulphur Queen had been attacked.

The reason for the MIG rocket firing on the shrimp boat was not clear but some officials thought it might be related to the fact that U.S. aircraft a few days ago fired rockets across the bow of the Venezuelan freighter, Anzoategui, after it had been seized by a Communist revolutionary group, and while it was being taken to Brazil.

In that case the Venezuelan government had asked the United States for assistance in recovering the vessel and the rockets were fired to try to get the freighter to stop, but it refused to do so.

Whatever the reason, the incident injected fresh tensions into the Cuban situation at a time when they were relaxing somewhat because of a belief here that some Soviet troops, perhaps as many as 8,000, might be leaving the island within days.

This prospect, or hope was based partly on the arrival in Cuban waters of four empty or lightly loaded Soviet ships.

U.S. Now Reducing B47 Europe Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cut-back in the U.S. Air Force's B47 jet bomber force in Great Britain, disclosed last week, already is under way.

The B47, a six-jet medium bomber known as the "Stratojet," is familiar to many Ohioans. Several squadrons of specially equipped B47s are stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base south of Columbus.

Strategic Air Command officials said six B47s on alert at Greenham Common Base in England were not replaced last week when they made normal rotation back to the United States. Other B47s still are stationed at the base, however.

A gradual phasing-out of the B47 has been in the works since 1959 but was delayed with the 1961-62 Berlin crisis.

Girls Battered, Buried Alive By Utah Youth

TOOELE, Utah (AP)—Two Salt Lake City girls were battered with a hammer and buried alive under desert brush Wednesday. Officers say a 19-year-old part-time dishwasher has admitted the crime.

The girls, Carol Annette Clayton and Drinda Jane Atnes, both 18, were rescued after a companion, Tony Robertson, 19, ran and walked 14 miles to the nearest telephone and got help. The girls were hospitalized and both were in critical condition.

Sheriff Faye Gillette said Rex Hintze of Salt Lake City admitted beating the girls after his car became stuck on a muddy road near the Great Salt Lake and the girls started walking toward home. He was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

"He didn't seem to know why he did it," the sheriff said, "he just said he was mad at them for leaving."

Robertson, a friend of Hintze's, said he was in the car and didn't know about the beatings "until he (Hintze) asked me to help him hide the bodies."

Robertson, also of Salt Lake City, said he thought the girls were dead. He said he edged away from Hintze, saying he wanted to see if anybody was watching, then started running.

Another Batch Of Winter Hits Buckeye State

Temperature Plunges To Zero, Is Expected To Hold in Frigid Zone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
After some near-balmey days, winter returned to Ohio today with a snow cover from Lake Erie to the Ohio River, and after a night when temperatures ranged from just below to just above zero.

Hazardous driving conditions existed over most of the state, plaguing local as well as highway travelers.

The arctic air, moved into Ohio Wednesday night, and will continue to hold frigid temperatures over the state. One of the coldest spots in the state during the early morning was Mansfield with 4 below; while temperatures of 3 below were registered in Toledo, Youngstown and Chillicothe, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau in Columbus. The bureau also listed Cincinnati and Akron at 2 below and Columbus with 2 above.

Because of the current cold spell and the forecasts of continued low temperatures, the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. today asked its large industrial customers not to use natural gas in heating their buildings, and to reduce their use of gas in processing, by 50 per cent.

The company said the action was taken to protect service to homes. In all, the company asked 262 industries to curtail the use of gas in processing, and 150 more not to use gas for heating.

The weather bureau listed a 4-inch snowfall at Youngstown, but in the Cleveland area the snow blanket ranged up to 5 inches in spots. Other snowfalls as listed by the weather bureau included 1 inch at Toledo, Dayton Cincinnati, Marietta and Findlay, 2 inches at Zanesville, 3 inches at Akron, 2 inches at Columbus, Chillicothe and Mansfield.

The weather bureau said the high pressure and very cold temperatures are to prevail in the state through Friday, that cloudiness will be variable, with occasional snow flurries, especially in the northeast counties. Today's afternoon temperatures are expected to be mostly in the teens, with the mercury readings being mostly below zero tonight.

In Cleveland and Cuyahoga County, the snow tapered off to snow flurries late Wednesday night but icy, whipping winds added to the problems of salt and cinder crews. Roads in Cuyahoga, Lake and Geauga counties were snow covered and slippery. Some drifting was reported on Interstate 90 and U. S. 21.

The Weather Bureau posted cold wave warnings for most states from western New York south to Virginia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arkansas Texas and northeastern New Mexico. No immediate relief from the subzero cold was in prospect for the Midwest.

The mercury dropped to near 30 below in International Falls, Minn., this morning after a high of 22 Wednesday. In other Minnesota cities, it was -25 in Hibbing, and -22 in Duluth and -15 in Minneapolis. In North Dakota, Grand Forks reported -20 and Fargo -18. Chicago had a return of below zero with -5, with lower marks in northwest suburban areas.

St. Louis had a mild 59 Wednesday but the mercury dropped 37 degrees in a three-hour period and this morning it was near zero. Denver's 27 mark compared to Wednesday's high of 67.

Fairly normal temperatures prevailed in the Pacific Coast and northern Plateau region, with partly cloudy to cloudy skies.

Dayton Drug Trial Nears Jury's Hands

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The trial of two men charged with conspiring to import heroin from Korea through the mails goes to a federal court jury today.

Joseph A. Gargano, 39, of Mack, a Cincinnati suburb, and William J. Vandeetti, 35, of Southgate, Ky., could get up to 5-20 years and-or $20,000 in fines, if convicted.

Two men who testified as government witnesses in the case pleaded guilty to a similar charge last December but have not been sentenced. They are Arlie C. Bush, 53, of Newport, Ky., and John P. Radican, 23, of Elyria, a former University of Dayton student.

Authorities said they cracked an alleged narcotics ring last July 11 with the arrest of Radican and Bush at a Dayton motel. Customs agents said they confiscated 10 ounces of heroin.

After their arrest, Bush and Radican implicated Gargano and Vandeetti along with John Spillman Sr. and Nick Iacobucci of Newport, Ky. Spillman is in custody in Korea, but Iacobucci was released Tuesday on the request of the government.

3 Motorists Fined In Municipal Court
One motorist appeared in Circleville Municipal Court today and two signed waivers of court hearings and paid fines levied for traffic violations.

Appearing in court was Wayne Morris, 51, Route 1. He was handed a $15 suspended fine and placed on probation for one year for failure to obey a stop sign.

The two signing waivers were: Eugene Kepler, 33, Columbus; $15 and costs for speeding 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Evelyn E. Carter, 39, Highland Ave.; $15 and costs for failure to obey a stop sign.

New Wrappings Put on Battered Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy put his battered plans for health care of the elderly into new wrappings today—part of a $10 billion, five-year plan aimed to better life, income and housing for senior Americans.

But it was bound to be old hat to Congress.

Besides the expected, and once-defeated, proposals for hospital insurance for the aged through Social Security, the President asked again for tax benefits for the elderly part of his tax message last month.

The hospital insurance plan is expected to cost $5.6 billion for the first four years, the tax benefits $3.9 billion for the first five years.

Thus, in this special message on problems of the aging—the first ever by an American president—the two biggest money items and all but a fraction of the total money package are quite familiar.

But, in addition, the President called for:

More money for low interest loans to build rental housing for elderly persons of moderate income.

New emphasis on building group residences for the elderly where central dining and housekeeping services are available, some nursing care can be provided, but privacy is preserved.

More jobs for those past retirement age who want to work—including a directive to federal agencies to evaluate applicants and employees on the basis of ability, not age.

In all, the President recommended 36 ways to better the lot of senior citizens. But the heart of the program was hospital insurance. Concurrent with the President's message, a new administration bill was to be introduced in Congress.

It was basically the same as a bill stymied by Congress last year. And it did nothing to bend to previous objections of the American Medical Association to any plan financed solely by Social Security.

Nor is there room in the new bill for private or voluntary health insurance plans to get into the picture, except as additional insurance. This had been suggested to some degree by liberal Republicans who offered their own Social Security-financed health bill Tuesday.

Last year's administration bill—almost a twin to this year's—died in the hands of the House Ways and Means Committee. An attempt to move it through the Senate as an amendment to a welfare bill was defeated 52 to 48.

The basic change this year is an option in benefits for insured persons. The prime benefits still provide for up to 90 days of paid hospital care after the insured patient has paid the first $29 to $90.

But the new bill allows two options, providing the insured elderly person chooses the option immediately before his 65th birthday. Once made, the choice cannot be changed.

The insured may choose to get 180 days of paid care, after first paying 2 1/2 days himself. Or he may choose to get 45 days of paid care without paying for any part of it. If he makes neither choice, he gets the basic 90-day provision of the bill.

As in the earlier bill, the cost of the medical care would be borne largely by a boost in Social Security taxes. It would mean a maximum of $13 a year for each employee and a like sum for his employer. It amounts to one-fourth of 1 per cent for the first $5,200 of the employee's income.

There are now, the President said, 17.5 million Americans aged 65 or older—and that number will swell to 25 million by 1980.

The tax proposals, spelled out by the President in an earlier message, include such benefits for the elderly as:

A $300 tax credit for everyone over age 65.

Unlimited deductions for medical and drug expenses.

The generally lower tax rates which would apply to all taxpayers if the tax program is adopted.

Morse Raps Sen. Lausche's 'Ignorance'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., unhappy over remarks made by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says the Ohio senator has shown "gross ignorance of the whole mediation process."

Morse, in a Senate speech Wednesday, charged Lausche with making an insulting speech implying that Morse was a biased mediator in the settlement of the docks strike.

Lausche quickly replied that he had meant no aspersion on the Oregon senator's integrity but only contended that "we are all burdened with our predispositions."

Morse was chairman of a mediation group appointed by President Kennedy which arranged the settlement of the recent docks strike.

Lausche had told the Senate Tuesday that Morse had ideological and predispositions which "made it impossible for him to be what one might call an impartial arbitrator."

Lausche also contended that nothing was done about the issue of featherbedding by the striking dockworkers.

Morse told the Senate: "I challenge him to go to the litigants (the dockworkers and shipowners) and find out if they feel they had fair treatment."

U.S. Now Reducing B47 Europe Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cutback in the U.S. Air Force's B47 jet bomber force in Great Britain, disclosed last week, already is under way.

The B47, a six-jet medium bomber known as the "Stratojet," is familiar to many Ohioans. Several squadrons of specially equipped B47s are stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base south of Columbus.

Strategic Air Command officials said six B47s on alert at Greenham Common Base in England were not replaced last week when they made normal rotation back to the United States. Other B47s still are stationed at the base, however.

A gradual phasing-out of the B 47 has been in the works since 1959 but was delayed with the 1961-62 Berlin crisis.

Kennedy Orders

occurred Wednesday but was only disclosed by the Pentagon this morning. The Defense Department said two MIGs flew by the shrimp boat, Ala, and fired rockets but did not hit it.

The presence of the MIGs had been detected earlier by radar and U.S. planes from Florida, dispatched to the area, saw the firing.

A Pentagon spokesman said the Ala was in international waters, 60 miles north of the Cuban mainland.

The sudden MIG assault inevitably raised the question in speculation here as to whether the shrimp boat might afford some clue to the mysterious fate of the tanker Marine Sulphur Queen, which vanished Feb. 2 on a voyage between Beaumont, Tex., and Norfolk, Va. The tanker was carrying 15,000 tons of molten sulphur. Wednesday ships searching for the vessel found flotsam littered Sulphur Queen.

However, a Defense Department spokesman said he was not aware of any evidence that the Sulphur Queen had been attacked.

The reason for the MIG rocket firing on the shrimp boat was not clear but some officials thought it might be related to the fact that U.S. aircraft a few days ago fired rockets across the bow of the Venezuelan freighter, Anzoategui, after it had been seized by a Communist revolutionary group, and while it was being taken to Brazil.

In that case the Venezuelan government had asked the United States for assistance in recovering the vessel and the rockets were fired to try to get the freighter to stop, but it refused to do so.

Whatever the reason, the incident injected fresh tensions into the Cuban situation at a time when they were relaxing somewhat because of a belief here that some Soviet troops, perhaps as many as 8,000, might be leaving the island within days.

This prospect, or hope was based partly on the arrival in Cuban waters of four empty or lightly loaded Soviet ships.

Girls Battered, Buried Alive By Utah Youth

TOOELE, Utah (AP)—Two Salt Lake City girls were battered with a hammer and buried alive under desert brush Wednesday. Officers say a 19-year-old part-time dishwasher has admitted the crime.

The girls, Carol Annette Clayton and Drinda Jane Atnes, both 18, were rescued after a companion, Tony Robertson, 19, ran and walked 14 miles to the nearest telephone and got help. The girls were hospitalized and both were in critical condition.

Sheriff Faye Gillette said Rex Hintze of Salt Lake City admitted beating the girls after his car became stuck on a muddy road near the Great Salt Lake and the girls started walking toward home. He was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

"He didn't seem to know why he did it," the sheriff said, "he just said he was mad at them for leaving."

Robertson, a friend of Hintze's, said he was in the car and didn't know about the beatings "until he (Hintze) asked me to help him hide the bodies."

Robertson, also of Salt Lake City, said he thought the girls were dead. He said he edged away from Hintze, saying he wanted to see if anybody was watching, then started running.

Another Batch Of Winter Hits Buckeye State

Temperature Plunges To Zero, Is Expected To Hold in Frigid Zone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
After some near-balmey days, winter returned to Ohio today with a snow cover from Lake Erie to the Ohio River, and after a night when temperatures ranged from just below to just above zero.

Hazardous driving conditions existed over most of the state, plaguing local as well as highway travelers.

The arctic air moved into Ohio Wednesday night, and will continue to hold frigid temperatures over the state. One of the coldest spots in the state during the early morning was Mansfield with 4 below; while temperatures of 3 below were registered in Toledo, Youngstown and Chillicothe, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau in Cincinnati. The bureau also listed Cincinnati and Akron at 2 below and Columbus with 2 above.

Because of the current cold spell and the forecasts of continued low temperatures, the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. today asked its large industrial customers not to use natural gas in heating their buildings, and to reduce their use of gas in processing, by 50 per cent.

The company said the action was taken to protect service to homes. In all, the company asked 262 industries to curtail the use of gas in processing, and 150 more not to use gas for heating.

The weather bureau listed a 4-inch snowfall at Youngstown, but in the Cleveland area the snow blanket ranged up to 5 inches in spots. Other snowfalls as listed by the weather bureau included 1 inch at Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati, Marietta and Findlay, 2 inches at Zanesville, 3 inches at Akron, 2 inches at Columbus, Chillicothe and Mansfield.

The weather bureau said the high pressure and very cold temperatures are to prevail in the state through Friday, that cloudiness will be variable, with occasional snow flurries, especially in the northeast counties. Today's afternoon temperatures are expected to be mostly in the teens, with the mercury readings being mostly below zero tonight.

In Cleveland and Cuyahoga County, the snow tapered off to snow flurries late Wednesday night but icy, whipping winds added to the problems of salt and cinder crews. Roads in Cuyahoga, Lake and Geauga counties were snow covered and slippery. Some drifting was reported on Interstate 90 and U. S. 21.

The Weather Bureau posted cold wave warnings for most states from western New York south to Virginia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arkansas Texas and northeastern New Mexico. No immediate relief from the subzero cold was in prospect for the Midwest.

The mercury dropped to near 30 below in International Falls, Minn., this morning after a high of 22 Wednesday. In other Minnesota cities, it was -25 in Hibbing, and -22 in Duluth and -15 in Minneapolis. In North Dakota, Grand Forks reported -20 and Fargo -18. Chicago had a return of below zero with -5, with lower marks in northwest suburban areas.

St. Louis had a mild 9 Wednesday but the mercury dropped 37 degrees in a three-hour period and this morning it was near zero. Denver's 27 mark compared to Wednesday's high of 67.

Fairly normal temperatures prevailed in the Pacific Coast and northern Plateau region, with partly cloudy to cloudy skies.

Dayton Drug Trial Nears Jury's Hands

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The trial of two men charged with conspiring to import heroin from Korea through the mails goes to a federal court jury today.

Joseph A. Gargano, 39, of Mack, a Cincinnati suburb, and William J. VanDetti, 35, of Southgate, Ky., could get up to 5-20 years and/or $20,000 in fines, if convicted.

Two men who testified as government witnesses in the case pleaded guilty to a similar charge last December but have not been sentenced. They are Arlie C. Bush, 53, of Newport, Ky., and John P. Radican, 23, of Elyria, a former University of Dayton student.

Authorities said they cracked an alleged narcotics ring last July 11 with the arrest of Radican and Bush at a Dayton motel. Customs agents said they confiscated 10 ounces of heroin.

After their arrest, Bush and Radican implicated Gargano and VanDetti along with John Spillman Sr. and Nick Iacobucci of Newport, Ky. Spillman is in custody in Korea, but Iacobucci was released Tuesday on the request of the government.

New Wrappings Put on Battered Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy put his battered plans for health care of the elderly into new wrappings today—part of a $10 billion, five-year plan aimed to better life, income and housing for senior Americans.

But it was bound to be old hat to Congress.

Besides the expected, and one defeated, proposals for hospital insurance for the aged through Social Security, the President asked again for tax benefits for the elderly part of his tax message last month.

The hospital insurance plan is expected to cost $5.6 billion for the first four years, the tax benefits $3.9 billion for the first five years.

Thus, in this special message on problems of the aging—the first ever by an American president—the two biggest money items and all but a fraction of the total money package are quite familiar.

But, in addition, the President called for:

More money for low interest loans to build rental housing for elderly persons of moderate income.

New emphasis on building group residences for the elderly where central dining and housekeeping services are available, some nursing care can be provided, but privacy is preserved.

More jobs for those past retirement age who want to work—including a directive to federal agencies to evaluate applicants and employees on the basis of ability, not age.

In all, the President recommended 36 ways to better the lot of senior citizens. But the heart of the program was hospital insurance. Concurrent with the President's message, a new administration bill was to be introduced in Congress.

It was basically the same as a bill stymied by Congress last year. And it did nothing to bend to previous objections of the American Medical Association to any plan financed solely by Social Security.

Nor is there room in the new bill for private or voluntary health insurance plans to get into the picture, except as additional insurance. This had been suggested to some degree by liberal Republicans who offered their own Social Security-financed health bill Tuesday.

Last year's administration bill—almost a twin to this year's—died in the hands of the House Ways and Means Committee. An attempt to move it through the Senate as an amendment to a welfare bill was defeated 52 to 48.

The basic change this year is an option in benefits for insured persons. The prime benefits still provide for up to 90 days of paid hospital care after the insured patient has paid the first $20 to $90.

But the new bill allows two options, providing the insured elderly person chooses the option immediately before his 65th birthday. Once made, the choice cannot be changed.

The insured may choose to get 180 days of paid care, after first paying 2 1/2 days himself. Or he may choose to get 45 days of paid care without paying for any part of it. If he makes neither choice, he gets the basic 90-day provision of the bill.

As in the earlier bill, the cost of the medical care would be borne largely by a boost in Social Security taxes. It would mean a maximum of $13 a year for each employee and a like sum for his employer. It amounts to one-fourth of 1 per cent for the first $5,200 of the employee's income.

There are now, the President said, 17.5 million Americans aged 65 or older—and that number will swell to 25 million by 1980.

The tax proposals, spelled out by the President in an earlier message, include such benefits for the elderly as:

A $300 tax credit for everyone over age 65.

Unlimited deductions for medical and drug expenses.

The generally lower tax rates which would apply to all taxpayers if the tax program is adopted.

Noisy in Back Country

Moonshiners and revenue agents are going to be common targets this year, warns the distilled spirits industry. If this seems like strange company, it should be mentioned that one out of seven drinks sold in the United States is composed of moonshine and that high taxes on legal spirits are what make the inefficient do-it-yourselfer able to compete with legal beverages.

Moonshine is not only depriving the government of $600 million in taxes each year and hundreds of millions of dollars in additional revenue to legitimate distillers, but it is flooding sections of the country with cheap booze made from untested ingredients in unsanitary equipment. Moonshine poisoning is not uncommon.

Taxes on distilled beverages frequently add more than 100 per cent to the cost of the product, and this provides the margin needed by the unscrupulous producer. Thus it is that Licensed Beverage Industries Inc. is establishing two committees this year — one to actively fight for lower taxes and the other to search out the illicit operation.

The back country of the U. S. is going to be noisy this year, what with the "revenooer" chasing the moonshiner and the liquor industry gunning for both.

Moscow's Exploiting

Moscow is wasting no time in trying to exploit frictions within the Western world. Through Pravda, the communist party organ, the Soviet Union is offering Great Britain sympathy and trade because it has been shut out of the European Economic Community.

Britain is not likely to accept the sympathy, since it is hardly feeling sorry for itself. Nor is the offer of trade with the USSR likely to make much impact on Britain, though this Soviet move has shrewdness, since Britain may experience some economic problems.

Soviet capabilities of trading with Britain are limited. Moscow is either unwilling or unable to spend foreign exchange and insists that trade with the non-communist world be largely on a barter basis.

The Kremlin may realize that any significant trade development with Britain is impossible, but still hopes to exert an influence on British public opinion during this period of shifting and sensitive Western relationships.

Undoubtedly the Soviet Union is just as delighted to see Western division as the free world is to see a breach between Moscow and Peking. The difference is that the Kremlin is making an open effort to exploit its opponents' disagreements.

Age of Chemistry

There is a continuing shortage of chemists in the United States, so high school students may do well to explore the possibilities in the chemical field. It is interesting to take a quick review of history, back to the days of Egyptian supremacy. "Education is the bride of industry," says one observer, and the union of the two elements produced a record of industrial achievement 5,000 years ago, in Egypt, which is envied even today. The Egyptian civilization produced such momentous items as the wheel, the screw, the wedge, the drill and the first bronze weapons of war.

Neither copper nor tin was a satisfactory metal for the Egyptian industrialists, but alloy of the two produced bronze, which proved to be almost a magic substance. This was one of the triumphs of metallurgy, which is closely allied to chemistry and which now requires a broad knowledge of chemistry.

The science of chemistry did not get really under way until about one hundred years ago. In 1776 oxygen was first recognized as a chemical substance, which indicates how crude were the beginnings.

Chemistry, a century ago, began to make great strides as a prime factor in industry. A combination of the sciences, with quick tie-up of mechanical engineering, produced a prodigious change reflected in almost everything man uses or wears.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—There's little cheer in the figures on business these days. But many are hard to fit into the over-all picture because of special factors such as weather, strikes or one-shot government spending.

And in spite of the dullness of most statistics, the morale of the stock market holds fairly firm, perhaps largely because the total of corporate profits has risen and prospects for the early months of 1963 indicate still larger earnings.

Many businessmen also are shying away from some of the interpretations of the sluggish mid-winter statistics, because they suspect political motives.

Still, most of the figures are quieting even after being adjusted to the usual seasonal downswings of the dreary months, and to the give and take on Capitol Hill. Industrial production hit its peak last September. The dip has been all but imperceptible but economists would be happier about the outlook if the production curve had continued upward.

Seasonally adjusted, employment was at a peak last August. The total of jobs took the expected rise before Christmas and the expected dip afterwards. But the percentage of the unemployed to the total labor force has gone up because the labor force keeps growing. And it is this broader problem that makes the jobless figures disconcerting now.

Retail sales for the nation as a whole have stayed a bit above the year ago figure. There have been variations. Bitter weather caused drops in some sections. The prolonged newspaper strike gets much of the blame for the dip in the New York area.

Auto sales have been a bright spot in consumer spending. And if they go still higher with the coming of spring, the whole economy might get a pep pill.

Two disquieting statistics in this prospect are personal incomes and factory work weeks. In January incomes dropped in some sectors, notably the wages and salaries of the manufacturing industries. A drop in the length of the factory work week was blamed.

The total of personal incomes pushed up, however. This was due to a one-shot government outlay, early payment of dividends on GI insurance. This was shoved ahead to January instead of being strung out through the rest of the year.

I'VE OFTEN been asked what contestant, of all the thousands I've encountered on the TV panel show, "What's My Line?" I remember most clearly. Without any question, it was a chap who worked at one of New York's summer recreation centers. No sooner had we guessed his occupation and shaken hands with him than he walked into the arms of six cops who were waiting for him in the wings.

It developed that the misguided lad was wanted in six different states for stealing automobiles. The minute his face was reproduced on the TV screen, every police station in New York was alerted and went into action!

Another contestant we "What's My Line" panelists will not forget in a hurry was a darling old lady who was a "cow washer." Yes, she washed cows at a big dairy in New Jersey. We missed her occupation by the proverbial mile.

What is worse, they brought her back to face us once more three years later—and we missed her all over again!

Allan King asked a veteran judge, "How do you usually decide a case?" The judge answered, "First, I read the facts of the case. Then I listen to the plaintiff. Then I render my verdict." "Don't you listen to the defendant, too?" demanded the astonished Mr. King. "Never," insisted the judge. "That would get me all mixed up."

Guide to Better Health

By HARRY J. JOHNSON, M.D.

The making of an alcoholic — whether the cause is purely emotional, purely physiological, or a combination of both — remains an uncertain process. Nobody has really proved anything about chronic alcoholism except that alcoholics drink.

Unquestionably however, the alcoholic is basically a person who suffers from an unstable personality. Doctors cannot and do not prescribe a drink for an unstable person and certainly not for one who may have a disease for which an alcoholic drink would be tantamount to poison. They often do prescribe a single, before-dinner drink for the normal healthy person who will suffer no ill effects from it and who can benefit emotionally from the little extra luxury afforded by relaxation at a time when it may be needed most.

But this prescription is for stay-at-homes, not drivers. Too many street or highway accidents involve persons who had been drinking, but who were not necessarily drunk. Even one drink can dangerously slow your responses. A study at Northwestern University's Traffic Institute once showed that if you take just one average high-ball and then drive, your chances of having an accident are increased by 55-to-1.

I am not going to preach on the morality of drinking. As a doctor, it is incumbent upon me to warn you about things that affect your life as well as your health. There is absolutely no justification for mixing drinking with driving. If you feel as if you must have drinks, even though you came by car and will return by car, be sure to wait long enough for the drinking to wear off. In other words, sober up.

There is no drug, no trick, no black-coffee magic that can make you sober. You cannot return to normal after drinking until the alcohol in your system "burns up," and that process takes time.

How much time? The rate of alcohol dissipation varies according to the amount of alcohol you have taken and according to your own physical makeup and weight. Based on studies made by experts, it would be wise for you to wait at least two hours after you have had two average drinks before driving.

Alcohol, distributed through the blood stream, comes into contact with all the organs of the body. The effect on the different organs varies. But experimental evidence shows that moderate drinking has no harmful effect on any of the organs of the body or on general health.

Can We Afford New Enemies?

By John Chamberlain

As the flames of ill will toward the United States continue to be fanned in France, Canada, Britain and other countries, it becomes somewhat unnerving to contemplate just how much we have been depending on the generosity of foreign nations in recent months.

There is the generosity in connection with that prickly subject of the gold balance, for example. If some of our overseas allies had wanted to become tough about it, they could have started a real run against us long ago by cashing in their large dollar balances for the gold that supports our monetary system. But they have, up to this point, desisted.

True enough, the U.S. is not in trouble if one looks at its long-term creditor position. France, for instance, owes some $1.3 billion to the U.S. government, and Britain is some $4 billion in debt to Washington. (These figures, as is pointed out in a recent Morgan Guaranty Trust Company survey, exclude World War I debts, which are presumably uncollectable. Altogether, more than $30 billion is owed to the U.S. government by some eighty foreign nations.)

Now, if enough of this money could be repatriated fast enough, the U.S. would not have to worry about a gold drain that could end by ripping the props out from under its currency. But the trouble is that much of the world's debt to the U.S. is not of a "call" nature. And when U.S. corporations build plants abroad, as many of them have been doing, they necessarily freeze their capital into the form of factory and office buildings, assembly lines, and other fixed property. This sort of wealth, though tangible, cannot be turned quickly into an offset against gold that is about to be lost.

The liquid dollar balances which are held in foreign banks are a potential time bomb even when they are possessed by our long-term debtors. Recognizing this, and feeling kindly toward the U.S. in its predicament, several European countries undertook in 1961 and 1962 to make some sizeable prepayments on their long-term borrowings. In December of 1962 France sent the U.S. Treasury a sum of $16.6 million even though it was not due until some time in 1963. This served to ease our balance of payments problem for the moment. In 1961 Germany, which has been liquidating its debts at a rapid rate, dispatched $587 million to Washington as a prepayment. And Italy, Sweden, Holland and the Philippines have all sent us debt payments ahead of time in recent months.

The obliging spirit surely ought to continue in a world that would stand to lose a good deal if the U.S. were to be pushed into depression by the destruction of its currency. But just how much political strain can the obliging spirit be subjected to without cracking? Though Canada, for example, is one of the countries that depend on the U.S. for long-term investment capital, it happens to have upwards of $2.5 billion in gold and in U.S. dollars in its treasury. The dollars could be used to hurt the U.S. if the spirit of political vengeance ever got out of hand. As for De Gaulle, if he continues to be irritated with U.S. foreign policy, what is there to prevent him from passing the word that there are to be no more prepayments on the French debt to Washington?

There is, furthermore, the danger that western Europe might begin to cultivate the east in a vindictive economic sense if the spirit of anti-Americanism grows. Russia has oil and timber to sell. France has just recently signed a trade agreement with the Russians. If cash is needed to purchase raw materials from the Soviet and its satellites, mightn't the time-bomb dollars in west European banks be expendable in the U.S. in order to raise the needed funds, either in gold or in more viable currencies than the dollar?

Well, trade wars, historically, have often had a way of petering out before they become really debilitating. But when trade wars become mixed up with a deliberate spirit of political vengeance, it could be a cause for worry.

It helped offset the drop in take-home pay due to the rise in Social Security withholding rates. Thus the government giveth and the government taketh away.

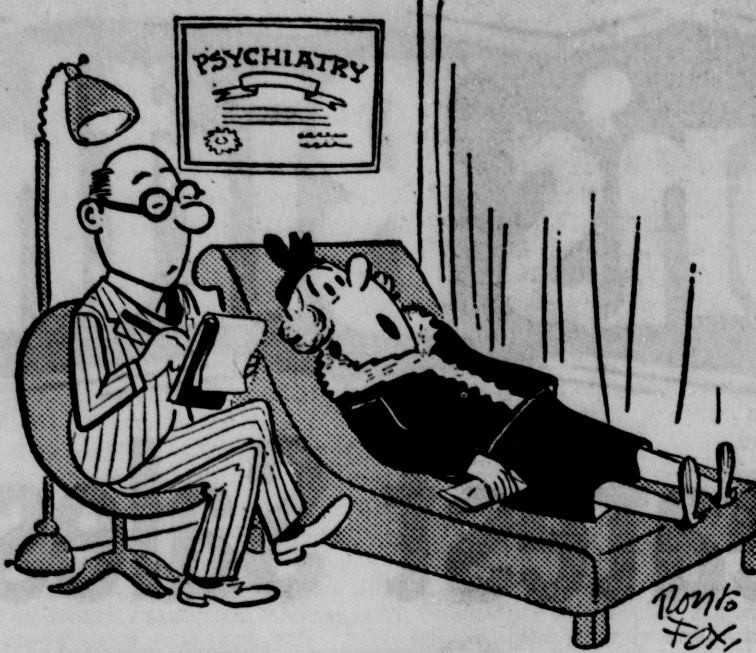

How the private sector of personal incomes behaves depends on the economy's course in coming months.

All of these statistics could change quickly if March and April work their hoped for magic. And as the experts keep warning, the figures aren't really bad, they just aren't good enough to solve the problems and fulfill the hopes.

(These figures, as is pointed out in a recent Morgan Guaranty Trust Company survey, exclude World War I debts, which are presumably uncollectable. Altogether, more than $30 billion is owed to the U.S. government by some eighty foreign nations.)

Now, if enough of this money could be repatriated fast enough, the U.S. would not have to worry about a gold drain that could end by ripping the props out from under its currency. But the trouble is that much of the world's debt to the U.S. is not of a "call" nature. And when U.S. corporations build plants abroad, as many of them have been doing, they necessarily freeze their capital into the form of factory and office buildings, assembly lines, and other fixed property. This sort of wealth, though tangible, cannot be turned quickly into an offset against gold that is about to be lost.

The liquid dollar balances which are held in foreign banks are a potential time bomb even when they are possessed by our long-term debtors. Recognizing this, and feeling kindly toward the U.S. in its predicament, several European countries undertook in 1961 and 1962 to make some sizeable prepayments on their long-term borrowings. In December of 1962 France sent the U.S. Treasury a sum of $166 million even though it was not due until some time in 1963. This served to ease our balance of payments problem for the moment. In 1961 Germany, which has been liquidating its debts at a rapid rate, dispatched $587 million to Washington as a prepayment. And Italy, Sweden, Holland and the Philippines have all sent us debt payments ahead of time in recent months.

The obliging spirit surely ought to continue in a world that would stand to lose a good deal if the U.S. were to be pushed into depression by the destruction of its currency. But just how much political strain can the obliging spirit be subjected to without a c k i n g ? Though Canada, for example, is one of the countries that depend on the U.S. for long-term investment capital, it happens to have upwards of $2.5 billion in gold and in U. S. dollars in its treasury. The dollars could be used to hurt the U.S. if the spirit of political vengeance ever got out of hand. As for De Gaulle, if he continues to be irritated with U.S. foreign policy, what is there to prevent him from passing the word that there are to be no more prepayments on the French debt to Washington?

There is, furthermore, the danger that western Europe might begin to cultivate the east in a vindictive economic sense if the spirit of anti-Americanism grows. Russia has oil and timber to sell. France has just recently signed a trade agreement with the Russians. If cash is needed to purchase raw materials from the Soviet and its satellites, mightn't the time-bomb dollars in west European banks be expendable in the U.S. in order to raise the needed funds, either in gold or in more viable currencies than the dollar?

Well, trade wars, historically, have often had a way of petering out before they become really debilitating. But when trade wars become mixed up with a deliberate spirit of political vengeance, it could be a cause for worry.

It's Muster Day Time in Ohio Now

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Muster Day, a resurrected tradition used with considerable effect by the Ohio National Guard, becomes the focal point this Washington's Birthday weekend for a recruiting stretch drive.

Army and Air Guard officials in Ohio have set a goal of 2,000 new men by the first week in April to bring units up to strength.

Muster Day, in colonial times the annual roll call of militiamen, has been used in recent years to call attention to the work of, and

Compensation Ruling Given

No Court Appeal Right Is Seen by Tribunal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has ruled that workmen's compensation laws fail to provide for court appeal from Industrial Commission refusal to allow occupational disease claims.

The opinion, by Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft, came in so-called conflict cases from Allen and Butler counties seeking compensation for silicosis deaths.

Mrs. Rose Szekely, 124 Lafayette St., Lima, asked benefits for the 1958 death of her husband, Moses, an employee of Randal Graphite Bearings Co., from silicosis, an occupational disease.

Allen County Common Pleas Court dismissed the suit but an appellate court reversed.

In the Butler County case, Mrs. Helen E. Larison, 1723 Eldora St., Middletown, asked benefits for the death of her husband, Ishmael, an employee of Diamond Gardner Corp., from similar causes in the same year.

Common pleas court dismissed Mrs. Larison's appeal from commission denial and an appellate court affirmed. The appeals court then certified the case to the Supreme Court as being in conflict with Allen County appellate decision in the Szekely case.

Taft said in his opinion that statute limits appeals in workmen's compensation suits to "any injury case."

"There is no right of appeal to the common pleas court with respect to an occupational disease claim under the workmen's compensation statutes," the decision read.

In ruling on the two cases, the Supreme Court reversed the Allen County appellate court decision but upheld the Butler County appellate court. Both high court decisions came on a 6-1 vote with Judge Paul M. Herbert dissenting.

opportunities in, the National Guard. Depending on the circumstances, it will be Friday, Saturday or Sunday, in most Ohio Communities anywhere near an Army or Air Guard outfit.

To handle increasingly complex responsibilities and maintain a state of readiness, Ohio's Army Guard units need between 14,000 and 15,000 men, and the Air Guard around 2,000, Guard officials say.

Dropouts are surprisingly few, but understandably higher in units which have just been released after being called to active duty. Four Army Guard outfits and much of the Ohio Air Guard were activated in the 1961-62 Berlin crisis, a number of men serving in Europe.

Nonetheless, Adj. Gen. Erwin C. Hostetler notes that there always are those who move away, retire or leave the units for other reasons. And, he adds, the Guard must have new young men to assure its future.

Muster Day programs will include exhibits in many places, including the Statehouse grounds in downtown Columbus, where there's even talk of erecting mock "Berlin walls" to emphasize the need for a strong backup force behind the fulltime military.

This is the biggest recruiting drive since 1957, Guard officials say, coming at a time when a number of Guardsmen are finishing their tour. Additionally, some Air Guardsmen stayed in the U. S. Air Force after the 1961-62 call-up, and both Army and Air Guard units have been reorganized, creating vacancies.

More than 900 men have been recruited since late 1962.

Brig. Gen. Frederick P. Wenger, assistant adjutant general for Air, says the Air Guard has a program known as "Try One" in effect at the moment. It permits men with prior experience in any of the military services to enlist—for one year—at the same rank they held on active duty or in the reserve. Thus, they have the choice of dropping out after "sampling" the program for a year, or of enlisting for three more.

REA Says Ohio Edison Overcharges Customers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Rural Electric Cooperative Association says 38 leading commercial electric utility companies, including one from Ohio, have overcharged customers $1,267,439, 000 in the five-year period from 1956 through 1960. The companies and the claimed overcharges included Ohio Edison Co. $76,844,000.

The association said its figure was arrived at in a research study using 6 per cent as a fair rate of return. It urged legislation requiring the firms to return the overcharges.

HE WAS THERE ALL THE TIME!—This was about the setup, Randy Homes, 3, asleep on floor of the back seat in San Diego, Calif., and his grandmother, Mrs. Allen Homes, at the wheel, driving around for half an hour along with eight police cruisers, looking for him. Assassination of Gandhi Is Theme of Exciting Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film maker Mark Robson has taken the historical fact of Mohandas K. Gandhi's assassination and fashioned around it a fictional melodrama, "Nine Hours to Rama."

The result is a generally exciting movie, set against a stunning Indian scenes. It may well help to restore the fading fortunes of 20th Century-Fox.

The ethic of turning recent history into film fiction might be argued. The screenplay, taken from Stanley Wolpert's novel, features only two real-life figures, Gandhi and the assassin, Natu Godse. The intention was to explain how anyone could kill such a saintly man.

In this Robson succeeds. So much sympathy and understanding is built up for Godse, compellingly played by Horst Buchholz, that the moviegoer finds himself in a dilemma: identity with the zealot's misguided cause but repugnance with his mission.

Robson, a careful craftsman ("Champion," "Peyton Place," "My Foolish Heart"), plays these mixed emotions for all they are worth. Some of his side trips into romance seem irrelevant, but when he sticks to the buildup toward the violent event, he is on sure ground.

"Nine Hours to Rama" is magnificent pictorially. The crowd scenes, the temples, the funeral pyres — all are photographed as part of the plot.

Vitamin Rich Potatoes Are Good Mixers

By ALICE DENHOFF

Part of potatoes' popularity lies in the fact that this vegetable constitutes the largest vegetable crop in the world today.

The potato is rich in important minerals and vitamins; its budget-priced and it lends itself to countless recipes — so don't sell the spud short!

Instead, do right by it and by your family menus with some excellent recipes that can pep up routine meals to no end.

NUTMEG CHEESE POTATOES

2 lbs. cooked potatoes, boiled in skins
1 to 2 tsp. milk
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
2 tsp. butter or margarine
3 eggs, beaten
1 lb. Gruyere cheese, grated

Peel potatoes.
Add milk (amount depends upon dryness of potatoes) and beat until fluffy.

Add remaining ingredients, reserving 2 tsp. grated cheese. Turn into shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining cheese.

Bake 15 min. at 400 degrees F. Place under broiler 2 to 3 min. to brown lightly.

SOUR CREAM BAKED POTATOES

6 medium baking potatoes
1 tsp. milk
1-3 c. sour cream
2 tsp. finely chopped onion
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper

Fresh parsley for garnish. Wash potatoes and wipe dry. Bake at 400 degrees F. 1 hr or until done. (To test for "doneness", press sides of potatoes with fingers wrapped in a towel.)

Cut off slice from top of each and scoop out contents, being careful not to break shells.

Mash until fluffy with milk. Add sour cream, onion, salt and pepper. Heap into shells.

Place under broiler (oven control set to 450 degrees F.) until tops are crusty and brown.

Garnish with fresh parsley. Serves 6.

POTATOES, DANISH STYLE

2 lbs. (6 medium) potatoes
1/2 in. boiling water
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 c. butter or margarine
1/4 tsp. white pepper
2 eggs, separated

2 tsp. fine dry bread crumbs. Wash and peel potatoes. Place in saucepan with 1/2 in. boiling water and salt. Cover and cook until potatoes are very tender.

Drain if necessary; put through a sieve or ricer.

Add butter and white pepper. Mix well.

Beat egg yolks lightly and beat into potatoes. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks.

Fold into mixture. Butter 1 qt. casserole; sprinkle top and sides with bread crumbs.

Add potatoes; bake for 45 min. at 350 degrees F.

Serve with meat, poultry or fish. Serves 6.

Dear Abby: In Your Corner!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You told a reader that it was poor manners to use a toothpick in public. I agree with you. But why bother with that when every day millions of so-called refined people commit a far more grievous social error by befouling the air with stinking cigarette and cigar smoke? If a person picks his teeth in public, those who don't like it can always look away. But if someone lights up a cigarette or a smelly cigar, those who don't like it can either jump it or leave the room.

DETESTS SMOKE

DEAR DETESTS: You rattled the right cage! I have harped on the offensiveness of smokers so much in the past that even my best friends are beginning to tell me off!

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day and see where kids complain about their brothers and sisters. I hope they see this. I am an only child and I would give anything for a brother or sister. I am very lonely. I have had dogs, cats, fish, birds and now I have a white rat but I am still lonely. If anyone wants to trade a brother or sister for a house-broken white rat, it is a deal.

ONLY CHILD, AGE NINE

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle something once and for all? Is it proper to tip the owner of a beauty shop if she has done your hair? I was told that you are supposed to tip only the employees and never the owner.

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: When in doubt, offer a tip. If the owner of the shop refuses it, say "Thank you" and

Woman Aviation Pioneer Gives Plaque to Historians

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The third woman in the United States to fly an airplane solo spent her girlhood in Canton, and she wants the Stark County Historical Society here to have her bronze plaque commemorating that event.

Miss Bernetta Adams Miller, 79, a resident of New Hope, Pa., is busy now compiling data for the Smithsonian Institution and the National Air Museum on her days as a pioneer pilot.

The plaque she is donating was awarded her by the Early Birds, an organization of pioneer aviators, for a solo flight she made Sept. 25, 1912.

The most important flying of her brief career as an aviatrix was done late in 1912 in a Bleriot-type monoplane—a dangerous and tricky craft she demonstrated for the U. S. government at College Park, Md.

She won her pilot's license earlier that year at the Moisant Aviation School at Minola on Long Island. The Moisant brothers already had taught their sister how to fly. Matilda Moisant and Harriet Quimby, a New York reporter had made solo flights before that made by Miss Miller, last living member of the trio.

"To obtain a pilot's license in those days was not complicated," Miss Miller recalls. "We did not have all the gadgets they have now—no regulating of speed. It was go and stop. We had to make 10 figure eights around the markers, go at least 1,000 feet high, as I recollect, and land within 150 feet of a given spot."

When her ambition turned skyward, Miss Miller held an office job in New York City.

Until then, about the most exciting thing in her life had been the election of a Canton man, William McKinley, to the presidency.

From the bay window of her home on Market Avenue North, she had watched "all the delegations that arrived with bands and floats to greet him."

About her decision to fly, Miss Miller's father "knew nothing until my name appeared in the papers," Miss Miller said. She made up her mind to win her wings for several reasons — "partly adventure, partly boredom with office work and also the desire to make money."

The latter motive, she soon learned, was wrong. "It cost me plenty," she explained, and that was the major reason she gave up flying.

"I couldn't afford the luxury. With my living expenses I was involved up to $5,000. I canceled an insurance policy and used all the money I had in the bank, but I paid off every penny."

"In those days we were all thought to be fools. Now we are considered pioneers."

Her urge to fly has been gone for some years now, Miss Miller admits. She has no desire to make a jet flight.

"That's a terrible thing for a pioneer to say," she added. "I simply feel that when emergencies arise a pilot does not have time to think. It was risky enough in the old days. . . ."

Goldfish Swallower Would Prefer Hiking

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Irving Clark Jr. says he has no intention of going on a 50-mile hike, but "it's a lot better for you than eating goldfish."

Clark, a Seattle attorney, ought to know.

In 1939, as a sophomore at Harvard University, Clark swallowed 24 goldfish. His stunt touched off a nationwide fad.

Clark, 41, said Tuesday he still remembers how goldfish taste. "They taste just awful."

Americans now eat twice as much chicken and over twice as much turkey as they did in the 1930's.

Life stride.

Vitamin Rich Potatoes Are Good Mixers

By ALICE DENHOFF

Part of potatoes' popularity lies in the fact that this vegetable constitutes the largest vegetable crop in the world today.

The potato is rich in important minerals and vitamins; its budget-priced and it lends itself to countless recipes — so don't sell the spud short!

Instead, do right by it and by your family menus with some excellent recipes that can pep up routine meals to no end.

NUTMEG CHEESE POTATOES

2 lbs. cooked potatoes, boiled in skins
1 to 2 tsp. milk
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper
3/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
2 tsp. butter or margarine
2 eggs, beaten
1/4 lb. Gruyere cheese, grated
Peel potatoes.
Add milk (amount depends upon dryness of potatoes) and beat until fluffy.

Add remaining ingredients, reserving 2 tsp. grated cheese. Turn into shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake 15 min. at 400 degrees F. Place under broiler 2 to 3 min. to brown lightly.

Serves 6.

SOUR CREAM BAKED POTATOES

6 medium baking potatoes
1 tsp. milk
1-3 c. sour cream
2 tsp. finely chopped onion
1/4 tsp. salt
3/4 tsp. black pepper
Fresh parsley for garnish
Wash potatoes and wipe dry. Bake at 400 degrees F. 1 hr or until done. (To test for "doneness", press sides of potatoes with fingers wrapped in a towel.) Cut off slice from top of each and scoop out contents, being careful not to break shells. Mash until fluffy with milk.

Add sour cream, onion, salt and pepper. Heap into shells. Place under broiler (oven control set to 450 degrees F.) until tops are crusty and brown. Garnish with fresh parsley. Serves 6.

POTATOES, DANISH STYLE
2 lbs. (6 medium) potatoes
1/2 in. boiling water
1 1/2 tsp. salt
3/4 c. butter or margarine
3/4 tsp. white pepper
2 eggs, separated
2 tsp. fine dry bread crumbs
Wash and peel potatoes. Place in saucepan with 1/2 in. boiling water and salt. Cover and cook until potatoes are very tender.

Drain if necessary; put through a sieve or ricer. Add butter and white pepper. Mix well.

Beat egg yolks lightly and beat into potatoes. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Fold into mixture.

Butter 1 qt. casserole; sprinkle top and sides with bread crumbs. Add potatoes; bake for 45 min. at 350 degrees F.

Serve with meat, poultry or fish. Serves 6.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

In Your Corner!

DEAR ABBY: You told a reader that it was poor manners to use a toothpick in public. I agree with you. But why bother with that when every day millions of so-called refined people commit a far more grievous social error by befouling the air with stinking cigarette and cigar smoke? If a person picks his teeth in public, those who don't like it can always look away. But if someone lights up a cigarette or a smelly cigar, those who don't like it can either lump it or leave the room.

DETESTS SMOKE
DEAR DETESTS: You rattled the right cage! I have harped on the offensiveness of smokers so much in the past that even my best friends are beginning to tell me off!

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day and see where kids complain about their brothers and sisters. I hope they see this. I am an only child and I would give anything for a brother or sister. I am very lonely. I have had dogs, cats, fish, birds and now I have a white rat but I am still lonely. If anyone wants to trade a brother or sister for a house-broken white rat, it is a deal.

ONLY CHILD, AGE NINE
DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle something once and for all? Is it proper to tip the owner of a beauty shop if she has done your hair? I was told that you are supposed to tip only the employees and never the owner.

IN DOUBT
DEAR IN: When in doubt, offer a tip. If the owner of the shop refuses it, say "Thank you" and

DeGaulle Firm in His Belief Europe Is for Europeans

EDITOR'S NOTE — France's attitude toward Britain and the United States has raised many questions about Charles de Gaulle and his aims. The Associated Press asked a French editor to explain some of the thinking behind De Gaulle's actions and to tell what all this may mean to France in the end. The writer, foreign editor of the Paris newspaper France-Soir, is president of the Association of Diplomatic Correspondents in Paris and has covered most of the big international conferences in that city since the war.

By MAURICE DELARUE
Copyright 1963
By The Associated Press

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle cannot be reproached for lacking continuity in his thinking. Tactical necessities may oblige him to zig or zag. But his final aim is clear, and long since a matter of record.

This aim is to make of a united Europe "a Europe that is really European." It must be its own master, and, first of all, control its own defense. It must be a united Europe that is distinct, but allied to the United States. Europe and the United States would be equal in stature and power.

The Atlantic Alliance remains

indispensable as long as the Soviet menace exists. But this united and independent Europe would act as a magnetic attraction for the Russian people. It would prod the Russian regime to change and become more human. Chinese pressure would aid this metamorphosis which would be slow but already is under way, and would permit establishment of a "European understanding from the Atlantic to the Urals." This would not be done against America, but with full American agreement, after the cold war has disappeared.

The political outline of Europe is a weak point in this vision of the future. How would this united Europe be governed?

De Gaulle evades the question with sarcasm against "supranationality" or a "stateless Europe."

He thinks that for the present it is necessary—and sufficient—to bring into being a common desire for an organized cooperation among governments, through regular and frequent consultations from chiefs of state on down.

Better yet, as a practical start on this program, it is necessary—and sufficient—to organize cooperation between France and Germany. The rest will follow. For almost 15 years, De Gaulle has never stopped preaching in favor of this "practical arrangement between Gauls and Germans" which finally took form in the French-German treaty signed last Jan. 22.

For De Gaulle, the Common Market is only a machine that he found in working order when he returned to power in 1958. He uses it because it has proved effective in welding together the economies of the continental nations.

In this Gaullist Europe, England has no place. Not that De Gaulle has a low opinion of England. He paid high tribute to England's historical accomplishments in his recent news conference—but the tribute was largely overlooked while the headlines went to his arguments against British entry into the Common Market.

In De Gaulle's view, England would challenge France's preeminence in the "Europe of states." And, above all, England is really not European. It is, with the Commonwealth, still another world.

No doubt it is a world in the process of breaking up but Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had the opportunity and the time—in 15 months of negotiation in Brussels—to hitch England to Europe. Instead, in 48 hours in Nassau he chose another course.

He made his option for America and handed over to Kennedy the most unique contribution that England could have offered to Europe as a dowry—its nuclear force.

This is the Gaullist interpretation of the Nassau agreement, and the explanation of the French veto at Brussels.

A non-American Europe does not signify an anti-American Europe. De Gaulle said Dec. 20, "The Atlantic Alliance is more necessary today than ever" as he bade farewell to Gen. Lauris Norstad. In moments of stress—in Berlin, on Cuba—he has proved himself the firmest of allies.

But if the Atlantic Alliance is one thing, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is another. In practice, NATO is under American domination. It cannot be otherwise as long as the defense of Europe depends solely on the American atomic deterrent. The tasks must be redistributed, not as U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara would like, in supplementing the American atomic monopoly by classical arms from Europe, but in granting Europe all the means for its own defense.

Certainly, this European arsenal would have to be combined with that of the United States. In return, the United States would be assured of the unconditional support of its European allies in case it was menaced.

In the absence of a European political authority, the nuclear forces in Europe can only be under national control. In the present circumstances in Europe, they can only be French. Nuclear armament of Germany would carry the risk of setting off a major crisis with Moscow. These are the facts of the hour.

According to De Gaulle's reasoning, these facts should lead the Atlantic Alliance to organize itself on the basis of three big, balanced political ensembles: the United States, Great Britain and its Commonwealth and Continental Europe. These three big ensembles would cooperate as equal partners, notably in the nuclear field and would coordinate their action everywhere in the world.

DeGaulle Firm in His Belief Europe Is for Europeans

EDITOR'S NOTE — France's attitude toward Britain and the United States has raised many questions about Charles de Gaulle and his aims. The Associated Press asked a French editor to explain some of the thinking behind De Gaulle's actions and to tell what all this may mean to France in the end. The writer, foreign editor of the Paris newspaper France-Soir, is president of the Association of Diplomatic Correspondents in Paris and has covered most of the big international conferences in that city since the war.

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle cannot be reproached for lacking continuity in his thinking. Tactical necessities may oblige him to zig or zag. But his final aim is clear, and long since a matter of record.

This aim is to make of a united Europe "a Europe that is really European." It must be its own master, and, first of all, control its own defense. It must be a united Europe that is distinct, but allied to the United States. Europe and the United States would be equal in stature and power.

The Atlantic Alliance remains

Union Objects To Non-Union Volunteers

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Union pickets will not keep volunteers from building a new Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints here, says Bishop T. J. Williams.

The Great Falls Building Trades Council set up pickets Tuesday after attempts to negotiate the issue broke down. No further talks are scheduled.

"The union says flatly we do not have the right to donate labor," Williams said. "We say flatly we do."

He said a precedent could be set by failing to use volunteer labor on the $450,000 church.

"Many of our members can't afford to donate much money so they are donating labor as has always been done in our Church," the bishop said.

A council statement said unions have no objection to a carpenter donating carpenter's work but the work should not be reserved to volunteers who aren't craftsmen.

U.S. Envoy to India Plans Return to Harvard

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith announced today he will resign in the summer or early autumn to resume teaching at Harvard University next fall. Galbraith was professor of economics at Harvard before President Kennedy appointed him ambassador to India. He will have been here two years in April.

indispensable as long as the Soviet menace exists. But this united and independent Europe would act as a magnetic attraction for the Russian people. It would prod the Russian regime to change and become more human. Chinese pressure would aid this metamorphosis which would be slow but already is under way, and would permit establishment of a "European understanding from the Atlantic to the Urals." This would not be done against America, but with full American agreement, after the cold war has disappeared.

The political outline of Europe is a weak point in this vision of the future. How would this united Europe be governed?

De Gaulle evades the question with sarcasm against "supranationality" or a "stateless Europe." He thinks that for the present it is necessary—and sufficient—to bring into being a common desire for an organized cooperation among governments, through regular and frequent consultations from chiefs of state on down.

Better yet, as a practical start on this program, it is necessary—and sufficient—to organize cooperation between France and Germany. The rest will follow. Harsha Reports

Funds That Would Aid Cuba, Red Allies Critically Viewed

Congressman William H. Harsha, 6th District of Ohio, today called upon Congress to refuse to appropriate any funds which would be used either directly or indirectly to finance any U. N. project in Cuba or in any other Communist-dominated or controlled country.

Pointing out that the United States is paying 40 per cent of the cost of the U. N. Special Fund, the account that is financing the Cuban agricultural project of the U. N., Harsha said there is no way to differentiate between United States funds and other funds in this account.

If this project is allowed to proceed, the United States will be contributing to the perpetuation of its own foes, the Ohio Representative said.

"Of what value are so-called economic sanctions, quarantines, and other measures to halt subversion from Cuba if, at the same time, the United Nations finances efforts to enhance the agricultural economy of Cuba?" Harsha asked.

He said, "Such aid as this will merely assist Castro in his efforts to subvert Latin America, it will aid in the spreading of Communism throughout the Western hemisphere and the United States should refrain from giving aid and comfort to any such program by refusing to appropriate the necessary funds for the U. N. Special Fund."

"If Congress is going to persist in appropriating money for the U. N. Special Fund, then it should at least place enough strings on such money to assure the U. S. taxpayers that none of their money will be used to assist, in any manner, Communist governments," he stated.

Afternoon temperatures today will be mostly in the teens, while low readings over the state tonight will be mostly below zero.

16-Year-Old Due To Enter State Pen

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Penitentiary will receive one of its youngest "lifers" in a few days—16-year-old Donald Eugene Taylor, who was convicted of first-degree murder Wednesday.

The three-judge panel trying Taylor for the murder of 47-year-old YWCA dance teacher Miss Honore Thompson decreed conviction with a recommendation for mercy. That spared the Springfield youth the electric chair and gave him a mandatory life term in prison.

Judge Ben J. Goldman and Stanley N. Husted of Clark County and Richard A. Finckel of Logan County also found Taylor guilty of assault with intent to rape. They imposed an indeterminate term to run concurrently with the life sentence.

Taylor was accused of breaking into Miss Thompson's apartment last Sept. 30 and smothering her with a pillow when she resisted his advances. Miss Thompson lived near the filling station where he worked, and the youth was among a group who forced their way into her home when friends became alarmed about her failure to answer calls.

Gas jets had been turned on in an apparent attempt to disguise the slaying as suicide. Taylor went right over, turned the gas off—and turned suspicion on himself. Police said he confessed soon afterward.

Prisoners in Solitary To Get Regular Meals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Workhouse prisoners in solitary confinement are to get regular meals all the time now—instead of just every third day.

City Council asked City Manager C. A. Harrell Wednesday to investigate the situation and to suspend the practice in the meantime. The issue of Workhouse meals was raised recently during a prisoners' unsuccessful attempt to get out of solitary through a court order.

Cincy Area Bank Sold

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Citizens Bank of St. Bernard has been sold to the Fifth Third Union Trust Co. and will become its 31st branch office. Citizens Bank, sold for reportedly more than $1.5 million, had resources of $10,823,950 last year.

Common Pleas Court Judge Frank H. Harvey denied Wednesday the injunction sought by the Akron firm, Donald Wohlgenuth, a Goodrich employee for 10 years and technical director of its space suit division at an annual salary of $10,600, was hired by Latex in December at $2,000 a year more.

Latex said it wanted Wohlgenuth to work on its Apollo space suit project. Goodrich sought the injunction on grounds the scientist had signed an agreement not to reveal its trade secrets to another company.

"This court," Judge Harvey said, "is constrained by the view that if there was evidence of evil intent it existed with the Latex company rather than this defendant."

Because Wohlgenuth is now employed for Latex in Delaware the judge said the case was outside his jurisdiction.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's medical care program, due to go to Congress today, won't relieve the general dreariness which has settled over Washington like an umbrella. It will just add to it.

It will be just one more program wrapped up by Kennedy and handed to Congress, with the chance dim, indeed, for anything coming of it. That's about par for the course so far in 1963.

January and February this year have been the two dullest opening months of any year in a long time, even though Kennedy's Democrats outnumber the Republicans as they did in 1962 and 1961 and for years before that.

At least the President can claim credit for prophecy when, despite the size of his party's margin, he said last Dec. 17 all his controversial proposals would be "closely contested."

Nothing better illustrates the stalemate in the Capital and the Capitol than what's happening in the Senate. It has done practically nothing and shows no signs of doing anything any time soon.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Wednesday complained bitterly to his fellow-senators for "demeaning ourselves" by wasting six weeks squabbling instead of legislating.

The early weeks were consumed in a fruitless fight between the out-numbered liberals of both parties and the Southern Democrats, with the former trying to change the rules to make it easier to shut off a Southern filibuster.

This has been tried so many times, and failed so often with the outcome always predictable, that it has become a kind of traditional tribal dance. That fight's finished for 1963.

Now the senators have themselves boxed in on another dispute, this time about procedure and committee assignments. Sen. Mansfield will have to be a very powerful medicine man to get his Senate braves on the legislative path.

There's no reason the one going to Congress won't land in the same moist grave, along with the education program, since Kennedy before Congress even came back this year expressed skepticism about both their chances.

Rubber Firm Loses Space Suit Action

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The B. F. Goodrich Co. has lost a court fight to prevent its top space suit scientist from going to work for the International Latex Corp. of Dover, Del.

Common Pleas Court Judge Frank H. Harvey denied Wednesday the injunction sought by the Akron firm, Donald Wohlgenuth, a Goodrich employee for 10 years and technical director of its space suit division at an annual salary of $10,600, was hired by Latex in December at $2,000 a year more.

Latex said it wanted Wohlgenuth to work on its Apollo space suit project. Goodrich sought the injunction on grounds the scientist had signed an agreement not to reveal its trade secrets to another company.

"This court," Judge Harvey said, "is constrained by the view that if there was evidence of evil intent it existed with the Latex company rather than this defendant."

Because Wohlgenuth is now employed for Latex in Delaware the judge said the case was outside his jurisdiction.

SOMETHING WAS WRONG THEN, TOO—In spite of the fact that "centennial" is spelled "centennial," Roy Gjertson, 36, San Pedro, Calif., won the Post Office art competition for a Battle of Gettysburg commemorative stamp with this design. Swapping Stamps Helps GI Abroad

MADRID (AP)—You might not think swapping postage stamps could help the mission of the U.S. armed forces in Europe.

Nor does keeping English streets free of litter seem to have much to do with frustrating Communism's westward march.

But these things, small as they are, help build good relations between U.S. forces and the Europeans among whom they live.

The Communist propaganda machine works hard at creating an ugly image of the American serviceman abroad. He is pictured by the Reds in their publications as a war mongering bully, contemptuous of the people around him, bent only on unleashing aggressive nuclear war against the Soviet bloc.

All major American units have "community relations" officers, whose job is to foster friendly contact between servicemen and people in the dozen countries in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East where U.S. bases are located.

The term "community relations" covers spectacular aid in time of disaster to such simple projects as exchanging stamps with local philatelists and teaching the Turkish air force band to play American dance music.

A local resident who complained of litter thrown from automobiles near the 47th Bombardment Wing at Sculthorpe, England, was pleased with swift American action, which included posting of notices and an antilitter campaign on the base.

In several countries residents around bases complain of noise from jet engines. The remedy usually is to invite them to tour the base and receive an explanation of how essential is the work that produces the noise. Where possible engine testing times are adjusted to create the minimum of local disturbance.

In Communist-surrounded Berlin, the community relations officer of the U.S. garrison is Berlin's only WAC, Maj. Patricia Bouldin.

"The goal is to have every American soldier and dependent who spends any time in the city to get to know a Berliner, or preferably a Berlin family. That enables them to look at the city through the eyes of its inhabitants, rather than from the American point of view," she explains.

The aim is to get Americans and Berliners with similar interests together. Exchange visits between personnel of the American hospital and Berlin hospitals are being arranged, for example.

At an isolated radar station of the 65th Air Defense Division, at Villatobas, 75 miles outside Madrid, the 200 Americans who run the station jointly with the Spanish air force have won friends in poor villages for miles around through their generosity.

New Title Set for Division
Of Pittsburgh Plate Glass

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., one of the nation's leading producers of industrial and consumer paints, has announced that its paint and brush division will become the makes appropriate the name fictive Mar. 1.

Technological progress, principally during the past 10 years, has made "paint" obsolete when used to describe the division's current and future functions, according to Guy J. Berghoff, vice president and general manager.

A new resins plant at Circleville, Ohio completed late last year, and which made its first shipment of resins earlier this month, is an example of the diversification which makes appropriate the name change, according to Berghoff.

The company official said successful research has resulted in production of coatings, especially industrial finishes, so far advanced in chemical structure that they are essentially chemical coatings or finishes. As a result, performance characteristics of the coatings have shown tremendous improvement in recent years.

Synthetic resins form the basis for the production of coatings, plastics and foams. They are the most important single ingredient in these products.

Since these resins are tailored or produced according to exact laboratory specifications, the finished products can be regulated as to property, cost, durability and hardness, Berghoff said.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Coatings and Resins Division is one of the top competitors in the coatings field which includes 1,400 to 1,500 companies, according to PPG spokesmen.

The division employs approximately 3,500 persons and operates 16 plants throughout the United States. Its research, development and technical organization is staffed with more than 500 scientists and technicians.

The paint division originated in 1900 when PPG purchased the James E. Patton Paint Co. which had been a paint manufacturing firm established in Milwaukee, Wis. in 1855. PPG operated a separate brush division for many years and the paint and brush Division were merged in 1952.

At intervals between 1900 and 1945 the company's paint manufacturing operations were called the paint and varnish division, and also the paint, varnish and lacquer division.

NEW YORK (AP)—Some Victor Borge fans wish he'd stop fooling around with long-hair music and stick to the comedy. Some Borge fans deplore sadly that such a talented musician, such a fine pianist, wastes all that time on funny stuff.

Borge, a lively man who has drawn a fine bead on the mass American audience, doesn't mind the walls a bit. For one thing, he realizes that both groups like to watch him. And he also realizes that the largest group of all—between the extremes—thinks his curious, special blend of good music and bright comedy is just great.

"You can't satisfy everybody," he shrugs. "And I have to do what I feel happy and comfortable doing."

Borge, who has been through the television mill and had made a number of specials over the years, will be seen in one of his infrequent specials on Sunday night on ABC.

Borge's Sunday special is certainly unique. It was taped in Philharmonic Hall of Lincoln Center. It enlists the talents of clown Marcel Marceau and classical pianist Leonid Hambro.

Borge's personal recipe for balancing himself delicately and successfully between two far-apart stools without danger of crashing to disaster is logic.

"Everything must be logical," Borge explained. "It is not difficult to get laughs. There are many ways to do this, starting with making funny faces. But you can't keep that up forever.

"You have to be comfortable, too, and I'm not comfortable unless there's logic in it. Some people say that the business where I fall off the piano bench at the end of a run is ridiculous. I say it's not ridiculous—I actually did lose my balance and fall off the bench when I was practicing."

Ohio Idle Pay Claims Continue To Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Both new and continuing claims for unemployment compensation showed decreases in the week ended Feb. 16, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

New claims dropped to 15,781 from the 16,544 for the previous week, and continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more dropped to 145,920 from the 148,234 on file in the week ended Feb. 9.

North Ohio Firm OK'd For Stock in Satellite

The commission Wednesday issued an order designating the firms as qualified common carriers eligible to buy into the corporation, whose stock will be owned on a 50-50 basis by such carriers and the general public.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1962 calf crop was reported at 41,026,000 head by the Agriculture Department today. This is an increase of 3 per cent over the 1961 crop of 40,019,000 head.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that Omaha was the nation's leading market for cattle last year. St. Paul for calves, East St. Louis for hogs and Denver for sheep and lambs.

Chicago, once the nation's top livestock market, was 2nd last year in cattle, 41st in calves, 5th in hogs and 13th in sheep and lambs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are storing a larger quantity of corn from the 1962 crop under price supports than of 1961 crop corn.

Annual Citations Are Made For Community Fund Efforts

FOR LEADERSHIP — Earl Palm (left) is presented a plaque for his outstanding leadership as general chairman for the 1962-63 Community Fund drive. Making the presentation is Dr. Robert Burton, outgoing Fund president. A record $33,288.36 was raised during the past campaign.

Earl Palm, general campaign chairman of the Pickaway County Community Fund, reported that a record $33,288.36 was raised in the 1962-63 drive.

The amount set a new collection record, although the goal for the year was $34,750. A rundown on the past campaign was made this week during an annual meeting at the Courthouse.

Dr. Robert Burton, outgoing Fund president, presented Palm with a plaque citing his leadership during the campaign. Palm in turn presented citations and letters of appreciation to key leaders in the drive.

The chairman pointed out that the campaign could not have been successful without the individual efforts of all solicitors, business, industry, The Circleville Herald — and most importantly the generous giving of those supporting the Community Fund.

OTHER BUSINESS during the annual meeting included the naming of Donald W. Flierl as new president of the Community Fund, succeeding Dr. Burton.

Migrant Ag Worker Pay Hit by Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, has asked Congress to take immediate action to bring migrant farm workers and their children into the 20th century.

Young in a Senate speech Wednesday, urged legislation to lift migrant farm workers out of "a system of virtual peonage in our society."

The senator said nearly two million men, women and children who work as migrant farm laborers "live in a twilight world of hunger, poverty and lack of opportunity."

Young said factory workers average nearly $90 a week in wages and that the migrant workers "pitiful $25 a week is in shabby contrast."

He said, "The real crime is what such an existence does to the children of these hapless people. If they survive their early childhood, they are virtually doomed to repeating the dismal life of their parents."

'SENSELESS AND BRUTAL' SLAYING—Robert Edwards, 19, shields his face from the camera as he and his uncle, Wilton Edwards, 39, are hustled into court in Baxley, Ga., in the uncle's trial in what authorities call the "senseless and brutal" knife slash slaying of Nicholas Cascario, Bangor, Pa. The slaying occurred on a highway after a car bumping. Young Edwards also is charged.

Blind Teacher Given Peace Corps Position

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A diminutive blonde who didn't let blindness keep her from becoming a teacher is the Peace Corps' first blind volunteer.

Marilyn D. Brandt, 23, arrived Sunday at Santo Domingo in the Dominican Republic to begin her new job.

Officials in Washington announced Tuesday she had been accepted by the corps.

"It was kind of a hurry-up deal," her mother, Mrs. Day Brandt, said Tuesday night. "They needed somebody who could read and teach Braille."

Marilyn's parents have been public school teachers for more than two decades. The father also is a rancher. San Antonio has been their home since their daughter was 6. She was born at New Braunfels, Tex.

As a child Marilyn had limited vision but glaucoma (hardening of eyeballs) caused total blindness when she was 13.

Miss Brandt, who is barely over 5 feet tall and weighs 100 pounds, was graduated from the Texas School for the Blind at Austin in 1957 and took a bachelor of science degree from Southwest Texas College at San Marcos. She was a member of the Student Senate and several honor fraternities.

In applying for the Peace Corps last summer, she cited knowledge of Spanish, special attention to English and social studies, plus her Braille training.

Young Slayer Ruled Insane

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The youth charged in a crime that raised a storm of statewide public indignation last June is being committed to Lima State Hospital.

Judge James J. Mayer declared Jerrell Ray Howell, 19, insane and unfit to stand trial in the slayings of two small girls. His ruling came after a sanity hearing Wednesday with testimony from two psychiatrists, Dr. Walter A. Massie of Mansfield and Dr. Irwin N. Perr of Cleveland.

Howell, if and when declared sane, must return to stand trial for first-degree murder. He is accused of the kicking-beating deaths of the two girls ages 7 and 3, whose bodies were found in a creek here.

The crime aroused controversy because the youth was at liberty despite a record of sex molestings of children.

Tribunal Eyes Scioto Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio supreme Court heard oral arguments in the appeal of Common Pleas Court Judge Vernon Smith of Scioto County for an order to fill vacancies in grand jury vacancies from annual jury lists.

Prosecutor Everett Burton obtained a mandamus writ from appellate court to require Smith and Common Pleas Judge Lowell C. Thompson to pick names from the jury wheel to fill such vacancies.

Portsmouth Atty. Richard Carter argued that Smith acted properly in following his procedure. Thompson did not contest the order.

But Assistant Prosecutor Robert E. Dever contended that the order should stand.

Science Building Is Planned at Ohio Fairgrounds

A new John Glenn Science Center Building at the Ohio Exposition Center will be "multi-purpose" and a "definite asset" in the states accelerated efforts to attract more industries and space contracts.

This was the feeling of members of the Ohio Exposition Commission who revealed plans for the $1,000,000 building at their regular monthly meeting in Columbus.

Bennett W. Junk, New Holland, a member of the OEC, said the John Glenn Science Center is part of the long-range capital improvements program for the sight of the annual Ohio State Fair.

The commission pointed out that the Science Center is designed to accommodate science and youth exhibits and can serve as a headquarters for the governors planned Youth Commission.

Plans call for the new building to be erected north of the Youth Center. It would be directly across from the planned Industrial Building—which will probably be backed by Ohio industries anxious to make this the "showcase of Ohio industry" on a year-around basis.

Distiller, Ohio Reach Accord On State Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state has reached agreement with Schenley Distillers, Inc., to use state liquor profits to help pay $62.7 million in school subsidies due next Wednesday.

Schenley, which previously balked at such an arrangement, Wednesday accepted Finance Director Richard Krabach's plan for a two-year liquidation of about $70 million in past due accounts of all suppliers, most of them incurred by the previous administration.

The state owes Schenley, Ohio's largest supplier, more than $9 million.

Krabach said he agreed to stipulate that he would adhere to his payment plan under normal state operations so a court injunction could be lifted to permit use of liquor funds to pay off debts. Another distiller obtained the injunction to require use of liquor funds to pay debts.

The last report issued by Krabach's office said there was about $27 million in the liquor fund and some $33 million in the general fund. A $3 million payment to state retirement funds is due shortly and another $60 million school subsidy payment comes due in May.

Krabach's plan calls for the state to take $25 million from the fund in each of the next two years and apply the balance of net profits to bills owed distillers on a prorated basis.

Bowling Green Jury Decides Slayer Insane
BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Gavino Llamas, 48, has been cleared of second-degree murder because a jury decided Wednesday he was insane when his wife, Jacoba, was stabbed fatally in December 1959.

Llamas now returns to Lima State Hospital, which returned him here when it found him well enough to stand trial after he spent nearly three years there. When officially certified as sane, the non-English speaking immigrant can go free.

Appliance Life Expectancy Data Given

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the benefit of the farm wife as well as city wife, Agriculture Department home economists have made studies to determine the life expectancy of major household appliances.

Under average conditions, they say a new refrigerator or range should last 16 years, electric washing machine 11 years, electric clothes dryer 14, electric freezer 15, vacuum cleaners 15 - 18 years, electric sewing machines 24, automatic toasters 15, television sets 11 and living room woolen rugs 14.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1962 calf crop was reported at 41,025,000 head by the Agriculture Department today. This is an increase of 3 per cent over the 1961 crop of 40,019,000 head.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that Omaha was the nation's leading market for cattle last year. St. Paul for calves, East St. Louis for hogs and Denver for sheep and lambs.

Chicago, once the nation's top livestock market, was 2nd last year in cattle, 41st in calves, 5th in hogs and 13th in sheep and lambs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are storing a larger quantity of corn from the 1962 crop under price supports than of 1961 crop corn.

The quantity of last year's corn put under supports to Feb. 1 was 306 million bushels, or slightly more than 8 per cent of its production. This compared with 287 million bushels of 1961 crop corn stored to the like date a year ago. This was slightly more than 7 per cent of the crop.

Annual Citations Are Made For Community Fund Efforts

FOR LEADERSHIP — Earl Palm (left) is presented a plaque for his outstanding leadership as general chairman for the 1962-63 Community Fund drive. Making the presentation is Dr. Robert Burton, outgoing Fund president. A record $33,288.36 was raised during the past campaign.

Earl Palm, general campaign chairman of the Pickaway County Community Fund, reported that a record $33,288.36 was raised in the 1962-63 drive.

The amount set a new collection record, although the goal for the year was $34,750. A rundown on the past campaign was made this week during an annual meeting at the Courthouse.

Toppled Bearcats Planning To Start New Win Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Bearcats, with one string ended, will try to keep another, more important streak going tonight against North Texas State.

The Bearcats' 37-game winning streak came to an abrupt, painful halt in Wichita Saturday but their quest of an unprecedented third straight NCAA title is still very, very active.

They could take a major step in that quest by beating North Texas tonight, which would secure Cincinnati its sixth straight Missouri Valley Conference title and a spot in the NCAA regionals, first step on the long road to the championships.

The Bearcats, still ranked first in the nation, take a 19-1 mark into the game while North Texas, at 10-11, is enjoying its best season since joining the league in 1957. Cincinnati won a previous meeting 75-58 at North Texas earlier this season.

Another important game sends Notre Dame against 10th ranked New York University, already named for an NCAA open berth at Madison Square Garden. NYU has won nine in a row and is 13-2 over-all.

Penn State and Pittsburgh, vying for an NCAA spot, each came a-cropper Wednesday night as they headed into a showdown at Pittsburgh Saturday. Temple, now 14-6, upset Pitt 77-71 at Philadelphia while West Virginia held off a Penn State rally 83-82 on the Nittany Lions' home grounds.

Springfield upset Hoy Cross 74-72 at Worcester, Mass., the Crusaders' fourth straight loss after winning 10 straight, homesteading Providence, already entered in the NIT, just held off visiting Assumption 68-67. Davidson blasted Wake Forest 90-75 at Charlotte, and Nick Werkman, the nation's leading major college scorer scored 32 points in Seton Hall's 92-61 victory over St. Peter's.

In some of the other major major games, Detroit edged Cani-

Willie Mays Is Signed For $100,000

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"This Willie Mays, he does everything."

And gets rewarded accordingly. San Francisco Manager Al Darc paid the compliment and the National League champion Giants will be paying Mays approximately $100,000 for the 1963 season, a plateau reached before by only Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and Stan Musial.

Mays agreed to terms Wednesday for an estimated increase of $10,000 following a season in which he led the National League in homers with 49 and drove in 141 runs while batting .304.

While Mays stepped into the Giants' fold, World Series opponent Ralph Terry—the pitching hero who shut out San Francisco 1-0 in the deciding game of the Series—agreed to terms with the world champion New York Yankees.

The 27-year-old right-hander posted a 23-12 record last season and received a $12,000 raise to $35,000.

Besides Terry, a host of other pitchers signed, including Roger Craig of the New York Mets, Ray Herbert and Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, Carl Willey of Milwaukee, Ernie Broglio and Bobby Shantz of St. Louis, Bob Allen and Wilfred (Sonny) Siebert of Cleveland and Steve Dalkowski of Baltimore.

Hutch Ponders Opening Lineup

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds start spring training today and Manager Fred Hutchinson says he's already got an idea who will start the regular season April 8 at Crosley Field.

"I'm not going to stand here and say that every position on this club is wide open," said Hutchinson.

"I've got a lineup. I even have in mind the 28 men we'll open the season with."

"But that doesn't mean it can't be changed. It's up to the other guys to knock the regulars out of their jobs on this nine. That's what we'll be looking for in spring training men who might push someone else out of a job."

Wisconsin's Lou Holland led Big Ten football scorers last fall with nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Mid-Am Conference Cage Lead Deadlocked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Now it's Toledo's turn to share first place in the topsy-turvy Mid-American Conference.

The Rockets turned back Kent State 70-62 Wednesday night to tie Bowling Green for the top spot with 7-3 records. Right behind these two is Miami, which has completed its league season with an 8-4 mark.

Toledo's Ray Wolford was the big gun with 22 points and 21 rebounds, a single-game record for the Rockets. Wolford flipped in eight field goals to run his season's total to 180, also a school record. Dennis Klug and Dan Norris scored 21 apiece for the Golden Flashes in a losing effort.

Toledo and Bowling Green have two games remaining, both against Western Michigan and Marshall.

Elsewhere, Ohio University scored an easy 81-54 victory over Morehead (Ky.). The Bobcats, paced by Stacy Burton's 15 points, led by 10 at halftime and were never challenged again. Morehead, the Ohio Valley Conference leader, shot a cold 30 per cent while the Bobcats hit 41 per cent.

In other games Central State nipped Steubenville 74-72 on the Barons' floor; Defiance outlasted Adrian (Mich.) 99-91; Findlay walloped Malone 86-55; Bob Raber's jump shot with 11 seconds left gave Bluffton a 71-69 Mid-Ohio Conference victory over Wilmington; John Carroll trounced Allegheny 85-66, and Northern Illinois pounded visiting Ohio Northern 100-77.

The Bluffton triumph kept the losing Quakers from tying Defiance for first place in the MOC.

Wittenberg Still No. 1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wittenberg University, hopeful of regaining the national small college basketball championship in the National Collegiate Athletic Association post-season tournament, is the No. 1 team in The Associated Press small college poll for the third straight week.

The Tigers with an 18-1 record, are on a 12-game winning streak. They are favored to win the Ohio Athletic Conference championship tourney and thus gain an automatic berth in the NCAA event next month. Their only defeat came in triple overtime at the hands of Eastern Kentucky, a major school.

Wittenberg collected 70 points in the weekly voting by the AP panel of eight sports writers and broadcasters, a margin of eight over the runner-up, Southeast Missouri, which has won 19 of 21 games.

New Strike Zone Seen Hurting Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Baseball's expanded strike zone may hurt the San Francisco Giants, says Manager Alvin Dark.

He told a pre-spring training news conference Wednesday that he thinks National League umpires will not be able to crouch as low as previously since the top of the strike zone is now higher.

"It's the way they stand that raises or lowers the strike zone," said Dark. "If they're up higher it may pull the strike zone up."

"It'll hurt us if they pull it up, because I like our pitchers to keep the ball low. I don't want our pitchers getting up higher."

Ohio Hunting Mishaps Decline

The Division of Wildlife today came up with these figures:

KANSAS CITY (AP)—South Dakota State, South Carolina State, Evansville of Indiana, Belknap of Kentucky, Lamar Tech of Texas and Oglethorpe of Georgia have earned spots in the NCAA's college division basketball playoffs.

NCAA headquarters listed them today as the first to make the grade into the 32-team bracket.

It also announced the sites for three of the eight regional playoffs on March 8-9: the University of Akron, South Dakota State at Brookings and Belknap at Louisville.

South Dakota State and South Carolina State are among the 11 teams who will qualify for the national tournament automatically by winning their conference championships.

The other four are among the 21 at-large nominees—chosen for outstanding records or after inter-conference playoffs.

The winners of the eight regionals on March 8-9 will play for the national title at Evansville the following weekend.

1961: 131 accidents, 1 fatal.
1962: 10 accidents, 6 fatal.
Of 1962's half-dozen fatalities, one came when two hunters mistook a companion for a woodchuck, and both shot him; another was caused by a hunter being mistaken for a squirrel; a third was self-inflicted by a hunter using his shotgun to club a wounded squirrel; another when a hunter stepped into the line of fire as a companion shot at a pheasant; the fifth when a companion's trigger was caught on brush, and the sixth when a companion's gun fired while being unloaded.

Only four accidents were reported on public hunting lands. None was reported by duck hunters, and there were no archery accidents. Nearly a third of the accidents involved hunters 19 years of age or under.

There were some bizarre bits this unusual winter, along with the high snow and low temperatures.

Snakes did a turnabout and ignored the frigid blasts. John Black, ranger at Shawnee State Forest, spotted a copperhead and a rattlesnake on a snow-covered jeep trail—each three feet long. He killed both. And less than a month ago a Fostoria trapper killed two blacksnakes in the snow.

This and that:
Ice fishing is tapering off on northwestern Ohio's inland waters but is still good—although spotty—on Lake Erie.

The Ohio Division of Forestry has sold more than 11 million trees of various kinds for spring delivery—but still has ample supplies of red and white pines, Norway spruce and black locust.

Permits for dog field trials on or after Nov. 1 will be on a tentative basis this year. The Wildlife Division is recommending that the upland game season open Friday, Nov. 1, this year, and on the first Friday of November in ensuing years, instead of in mid-November.

A recent fish kill in the Maumee River was caused by pollutants, not lack of oxygen, fisheries biologists reported. Laundry detergents get most of the blame.

This was been the best fox-hunting season in years due to the good tracking snows. More than 100 were taken in Hancock County alone, where a $5 bounty is paid.

Eugene Bower of the Dover National Bank has ordered almost a quarter-million trees this year for bank customers interested in reforestation. Bower has been responsible for reforesting hundreds of acres of idle land in Tuscarawas and surrounding counties.

Circleville Frosh Drop 39-27 Contest At Lancaster Ewing

The Circleville Freshman basketball team dropped a 39-27 tilt at Lancaster Ewing this week to drop its season record to three wins and five losses.

The freshmen have three games remaining on the schedule. Today they host the Teays Valley frosh unit at 4:15 p. m. and next Thursday they play at Miami Trace. A make up game with Chillicothe remains to be scheduled.

Dave Iery paced the tiny Tigers with 12 points. The Red and Black was down 5-4 as the first quarter ended but the host team took a 15-9 halftime lead. In the third quarter they widened it to 29-19.

The Circleville Booster Club basketball tournament organizational meeting will be held 1 p. m. Sunday at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Six teams are presently committed to take part in the tournament. Additional squads interested may contact Bob Chapman at GR 4-6430 for details.

The tournament games will be played week nights at the Coliseum.

The University of Houston Cougars have won the National Collegiate AA golf title six of the past seven years.

Four Tiger Grapplers Seeded In Central District Tourney

The first round of the Central District South Sectional wrestling tournament is slated to start 7 p. m. tomorrow at Whitehall High School.

The matches will be held in the auditorium of the school. Finals are scheduled at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at Whitehall.

Four Circleville High School wrestlers were seeded last night during the meeting of the South Sectional coaches.

Twelve teams compete in the South Sectional and four grapplers were seeded in each weight division. In some cases six mat men were seeded in order to split up the better wrestlers.

FOR THE Roundtown team Jack Cook, Tim Mogan, Dever Jolly and Tom Bivens were seeded in their respective weight divisions.

Tim Mogan is defending district champion and Dever Jolly was a runner up in his weight last year. Mogan has lost only one match, by a default to Green of Pleasant View. Jolly is undefeated in competition this year.

Making the trip for the Tigers will be either Charlie Hurlie or Glen Plum in the 103 class, Charlie Martin in the 112 pound class, George Tootle Jr. in the 120, Jack Cook in the 127, Tim Mogan, 133, either Jerry Francis or Bill Myers in the 138 pound class, Larry Adams in the 155 pound class, LeRoy Hagen in the 175 and Howard Fletcher in the heavyweights.

Both Adams and Hagen have been under the weather with a slight touch of flu but Tiger wrestling coach Dave LaBounty reports they should be in top condition by the meet tomorrow night.

Other teams competing in the south sectional are Bexley, Franklin Heights, Eastmoor, Walnut Ridge, West, Bishop Hartley, Watkins Memorial, Grove City, Central, Pleasant View, Groveport, Whitehall.

Franklin Heights is the defending district champion.

Manager Harry Craft of the Houston Colts says Bob Aspromonte is the best third baseman he has ever had on his club when it comes to gathering in slow hit balls.

Toppled Bearcats Planning To Start New Win Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Bearcats, with one string ended, will try to keep another, more important streak going tonight against North Texas State.

The Bearcats' 37-game winning string came to an abrupt, painful halt in Wichita Saturday but their quest of an unprecedented third straight NCAA title is still very, very active.

They could take a major step in that quest by beating North Texas tonight, which would secure Cincinnati its sixth straight Missouri Valley Conference title and a spot in the NCAA regionals, first step on the long road to the championships.

The Bearcats, still ranked first in the nation, take a 19-1 mark into the game while North Texas, at 10-11, is enjoying its best season since joining the league in 1957. Cincinnati won a previous meeting 75-58 at North Texas earlier this season.

Another important game sends Notre Dame against 10th ranked New York University, already named for an NCAA open berth at Madison Square Garden. NYU has won nine in a row and is 13-2 over-all.

Penn State and Pittsburgh, vying for an NCAA spot, each came a-cropper Wednesday night as they headed into a showdown at Pittsburgh Saturday. Temple, now 14-6, upset Pitt 77-71 at Philadelphia while West Virginia held off a Penn State rally 83-82 on the Mitty Lions' home grounds.

Springfield upset Hoy Cross 74-72 at Worcester, Mass., the Crusaders' fourth straight loss after winning 10 straight, homestanding Providence, already entered in the NIT, just held off visiting Assumption 69-67. Davidson blasted Wake Forest 90-75 at Charlotte, and Nick Werkman, the nation's leading major college scorer scored 32 points in Seton Hall's 92-61 victory over St. Peter's.

In some of the other major games, Detroit edged Cani-

Willie Mays Is Signed For $100,000

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"This Willie Mays, he does everything."

And gets rewarded accordingly. San Francisco Manager Al Darc paid the compliment and the National League champion Giants will be paying Mays approximately $100,000 for the 1963 season, a plateau reached before by only Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and Stan Musial.

Mays agreed to terms Wednesday for an estimated increase of $10,000 following a season in which he led the National League in homers with 49 and drove in 141 runs while batting .304.

While Mays stepped into the Giants' fold, World Series opponent Ralph Terry—the pitching hero who shut out San Francisco 1-0 in the deciding game of the Series—agreed to terms with the world champion New York Yankees.

The 27-year-old right-hander posted a 23-12 record last season and received a $12,000 raise to $35,000.

Besides Terry, a host of other pitchers signed, including Roger Craig of the New York Mets, Ray Herbert and Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, Carl Willey of Milwaukee, Ernie Broglio and Bobby Shantz of St. Louis, Bob Allen and Wilfred (Sonny) Siebert of Cleveland and Steve Dalkowski of Baltimore.

Hutch Ponders Opening Lineup

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds start spring training today and Manager Fred Hutchinson says he's already got an idea who will start the regular season April 8 at Crosley Field.

"I'm not going to stand here and say that every position on this club is wide open," said Hutchinson.

"I've got a lineup. I even have in mind the 28 men we'll open the season with."

"But that doesn't mean it can't be changed. It's up to the other guys to knock the regulars out of their jobs on this nine. That's what we'll be looking for in spring training men who might push someone else out of a job."

Wisconsin's Lou Holland led Big Ten football scorers last fall with nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Toledo, BGs Share Top Spot

Mid-Am Conference Cage Lead Deadlocked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Now it's Toledo's turn to share first place in the topsy-turvy Mid-American Conference.

The Rockets turned back Kent State 70-62 Wednesday night to tie Bowling Green for the top spot with 7-3 records. Right behind these two is Miami, which has competed its league season with an 8-4 mark.

Toledo's Ray Wolford was the big gun with 22 points and 21 rebounds, a single-game record for the Rockets. Wolford flipped in eight field goals to run his season's total to 180, also a school record. Dennis Klug and Dan Norris scored 21 apiece for the Golden Flashes in a losing effort.

Toledo and Bowling Green have two games remaining, both against Western Michigan and Marshall.

Elsewhere, Ohio University scored an easy 81-54 victory over Morehead (Ky.). The Bobcats, paced by Stacy Bunton's 15 points, led by 10 at halftime and were never challenged again. Morehead, the Ohio Valley Conference leader, shot a cold 30 per cent while the Bobcats hit 41 per cent.

In other games Central State nipped Steubenville 74-72 on the Barons' floor; Defiance outlasted Adrian (Mich.) 99-91; Findlay walloped Malone 86-55; Bob Raber's jump shot with 11 seconds left gave Bluffton a 71-69 Mid - Ohio Conference victory over Wilmington; John Carroll trounced Allegheny 85-66, and Northern Illinois pounded visiting Ohio Northern 100-77.

The Bluffton triumph kept the losing Quakers from tying Defiance for first place in the MOC.

Wittenberg Still No. 1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wittenberg University, hopeful of regaining the national small college basketball championship in the National Collegiate Athletic Association post-season tournament, is the No. 1 team in The Associated Press small college poll for the third straight week.

The Tigers with an 18-1 record, are on a 12-game winning streak. They are favored to win the Ohio Athletic Conference championship tourney and thus gain an automatic berth in the NCAA event next month. Their only defeat came in triple overtime at the hands of Eastern Kentucky, a major school.

Wittenberg collected 70 points in the weekly voting by the AP panel of eight sports writers and broadcasters, a margin of eight over the runner-up, Southeast Missouri, which has won 19 of 21 games.

New Strike Zone Seen Hurting Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Baseball's expanded strike zone may hurt the San Francisco Giants, says Manager Alvin Dark.

He told a pre-spring training news conference Wednesday that he thinks National League umpires will not be able to crouch as low as previously since the top of the strike zone is now higher.

"It's the way they stand that raises or lowers the strike zone," said Dark. "If they're up higher it may pull the strike zone up."

"It'll hurt us if they pull it up, because I like our pitchers to keep the ball low. I don't want our pitchers getting up higher."

Ohio Hunting Mishaps Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hunting accidents in Ohio have shown a big decline the last three years, but some of the more careless nimrods are still shooting friends instead of pheasants.

The Division of Wildlife today came up with these figures:
1960: 180 shooting accidents, 18 fatal.

6 Teams OK'd For Play in NCAA Tourney

Accountants Say Ohio's Bills Now Total $83 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A team of public accountants says Ohio owes $83 million more than it has in the treasury. They add that Ohio has been spending at the rate of $52 million a year in excess of its income.

James A. Rhodes, Ohio's new Republican governor, has reacted to the financial bind by ordering an across-the-board cut to the point where spending equals income.

In office since Jan. 14, Rhodes has laid off about 5,000 of the estimated 60,000 state employees. He concedes the personnel slash may not yet be deep enough.

In fact, he has indicated strongly that thousands of additional state employees could lose their jobs under a reorganization bill being drafted in his office for legislative action.

"What we have in mind is reorganization for economy in state government," he said. Some reports circulated that as many as 19,000 state jobs would be stripped of civil service protection, but Rhodes termed the figure inaccurate and said there could be no estimate at this time.

While Rhodes and his finance director, Richard L. Krabach, scan the billion-dollar-a-year financial program for spots where more cuts can be made, there is resentment from those who have been fired.

And there were questions raised by non-political persons who learned that some state employees were re-hired after it was discovered their work was essential.

Most of those dismissed thus far were nearing the end of a 120-day probationary period — and some were Republicans.

Rhodes scored heavily in his election campaign with a plan for creating 200,000 new jobs. Now, with the firing already mounting into the thousands there's been some comment that the governor will have to up that figure a bit.

All of which seems to perturb Rhodes not at all.

He spent the last 10 years as state auditor guarding the taxpayers' dollars. Before that he spent a dozen years as Columbus city auditor and mayor. He has a theory which he recited often in last year's gubernatorial campaign: "When you elect a governor, you elect management. What I am doing now in state government is exactly what you would do if you were running a business this size. It is just that simple."

Rhodes inherited the state's tight financial situation from Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

DiSalle, four years ago, won enactment of a $155-million-a-year tax increase program. He found even that amount less than adequate, but two years ago a Republican legislature refused to levy further taxes.

DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and one-time price administrator under President Harry S. Truman, always said candidly that he was more interested in seeing that state wards got their monthly assistance checks than in seeing that distillers were paid for liquor sold to Ohio's state-operated liquor stores system.

As a result, about half of what Ohio owes now is for whisky already sold to the state stores.

Rhodes insists his wide-swinging payroll scythe has not interfered with state care in such sensitive areas as mental health.

Democrats are saying that to Rhodes new oom is only sweeping out Democrats to make room for Republicans. They term it a return to "jungle politics."

Rhodes, who is 53, says, "All I want to be — and all I've ever wanted to be — is a good governor."

British Seek To Develop Secret Arms

LONDON (AP) — The British government said today that it will continue developing a secret nuclear weapon to be carried by Britain's H-bombers.

The weapon, details of which have not been announced, is expected to help fill the gap left by the junking of the American bomber-borne Skybolt missile until Britain has a Polaris-equipped submarine fleet. It will supplement the British blue steel bomb which can be carried by the same Royal Air Force jet bombers.

It was reported last Thursday that the United States will start bringing its six-jet B47 medium bombers home from overseas this year completing the shift by mid-summer of next year.

Presumably, this would make U.S. bases in Britain less important.

The B47 Stratojet has been part of the U.S. nuclear striking force for more than a decade. The Air Force has gradually been retiring the planes of this type, but there are still about 1,050 of them in the U.S. and overseas.

The backbone of American retaliatory power is built around more than 600 eight-jet B52 bombers and a growing arsenal of intercontinental ballistic missiles and Polaris missiles fired from submarines.

Armless Girl Is Helped With Pledge to Flag

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A preschool class for the handicapped was giving the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Charlie Sadikoff, on crutches, noticed that Kin Combs, born armless, had no hand to place over her heart.

Without missing a word the little boy reached quietly with his left hand and held it on her chest.

Drunken Birds Ignored By Police in Arkansas

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — For two days Newport police have been called to do something about drunken birds.

The woman caller says six English sparrows fly into her yard and eat some red berries, then begin acting tipsy and fly into anything in their path.

Police said it is out of their jurisdiction.

Accountants Say Ohio's Bills Now Total $83 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A team of public accountants says Ohio owes $83 million more than it has in the treasury. They add that Ohio has been spending at the rate of $52 million a year in excess of its income.

James A. Rhodes, Ohio's new Republican governor, has reacted to the financial bind by ordering an across-the-board cut to the point where spending equals income.

In office since Jan. 14, Rhodes has laid off about 5,000 of the estimated 60,000 state employees. He concedes the personnel slash may not yet be deep enough.

In fact, he has indicated strongly that thousands of additional state employees could lose their jobs under a reorganization bill being drafted in his office for legislative action.

"What we have in mind is reorganization for economy in state government," he said. Some reports circulated that as many as 19,000 state jobs would be stripped of civil service protection, but Rhodes termed the figure inaccurate and said there could be no estimate at this time.

While Rhodes and his finance director, Richard L. Krabach, scan the billion-dollar-a-year financial program for spots where more cuts can be made, there is resentment from those who have been fired.

And there were questions raised by non-political persons who learned that some state employees were re-hired after it was discovered their work was essential.

Most of those dismissed thus far were nearing the end of a 120-day probationary period — and some were Republicans.

Rhodes scored heavily in his election campaign with a plan for creating 200,000 new jobs. Now, with the firing already mounting into the thousands there's been some comment that the governor will have to up that figure a bit.

All of which seems to perturb Rhodes not at all.

He spent the last 10 years as state auditor guarding the taxpayers' dollars. Before that he spent a dozen years as Columbus city auditor and mayor. He has a theory which he recited often in last year's gubernatorial campaign: "When you elect a governor, you elect management. What I am doing now in state government is exactly what you would do if you were running a business this size. It is just that simple."

Rhodes inherited the state's tight financial situation from Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

DiSalle, four years ago, won enactment of a $155-million-a-year tax increase program. He found even that amount less than adequate, but two years ago a Republican legislature refused to levy further taxes.

DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and one-time price administrator under President Harry S. Truman, always said candidly that he was more interested in seeing that state wards got their monthly assistance checks than in seeing that distillers were paid for liquor sold to Ohio's state-operated liquor stores system.

As a result, about half of what Ohio owes now is for whisky already sold to the state stores. Rhodes insists his wide-swinging payroll scythe has not interfered with state care in such sensitive areas as mental health.

Democrats are saying that to Rhodes new oom is only sweeping out Democrats to make room for Republicans. They term it a return to "jungle politics."

Rhodes, who is 53, says, "All I want to be — and all I've ever wanted to be — is a good governor."

British Seek To Develop Secret Arms

LONDON (AP) — The British government said today that it will continue developing a secret nuclear weapon to be carried by Britain's H-bombers.

The weapon, details of which have not been announced, is expected to help fill the gap left by the junking of the American bomber-borne Skybolt missile until Britain has a Polaris-equipped submarine fleet. It will supplement the British blue steel bomb which can be carried by the same Royal Air Force jet bombers.

It was reported last Thursday that the United States will start bringing its six-jet B47 medium bombers home from overseas this year completing the shift by mid-summer of next year.

Presumably, this would make U.S. bases in Britain less important.

The B47 Stratojet has been part of the U.S. nuclear striking force for more than a decade. The Air Force has gradually been retiring the planes of this type, but there are still about 1,050 of them in the U.S. and overseas.

The backbone of American retaliatory power is built around more than 600 eight-jet B52 bombers and a growing arsenal of intercontinental ballistic missiles and Polaris missiles fired from submarines.

Armless Girl Is Helped With Pledge to Flag

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A preschool class for the handicapped was giving the pledge of allegiance to the flag, Charlie Sadikoff, on crutches, noticed that Kin Combs, born armless, had no hand to place over her heart. Without missing a word the little boy reached quietly with his left hand and held it on her chest.

Drunken Birds Ignored By Police in Arkansas

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — For two days Newport police have been called to do something about drunken birds.

The woman caller says six English sparrows fly into her yard and eat some red berries, then begin acting tipsy and fly into anything in their path.

Police said it is out of their jurisdiction.
